Team bonding, teamster style

Mick Kelly scratches the chin of his 3-year-old steer, Dick. Mick has won 4-H awards at area fairs with the team of Dick and Dan, and was part of a team from Maine that won an award at the Eastern States Exposition in Springfield, Mass. this year. He is currently training another pair, Bo and Bob. Mick spends about three hours a day caring for and working with the teams.

Freshman grooms his own award-winning team to pull, drag and show on fields far from school

By ALISON ALOISIO

Telstar freshman Mick Kelly, 15, is the coach of a very competitive team. But you won't find Mick or his teammates on any of the athletic fields.

Mick's four team members, weighing a combined 7,000 pounds, practice instead in a farm field. And they more than pull their weight for the team.

They are Milking Shorthorn Durhams, a breed of oxen. Over the past two years, through the 4-H program, Mick has trained and competed with a total of six teams. (If they are 4 years old or younger, the animals are technically known as steers.)

From goats to oxen

Mick has been a 4-H member since he was 5. He first raised goats, but later found his real interest in the large bovines. "You can do more with them," he said.

That includes training for taking part in four classes of competitions on the local fair circuit: Cart Course, Drag, Showmanship and Open.

But long before Mick and his teams get to the fairs, there are many other physical, and mental, tasks. Some are just part of a daily routine.

"I get up at 5, 5:30 to feed them," he said. Then it's off to school for Mick.

When he gets home, it's the steers' turn to learn. "I get them out and work with them every day," he said.

His current students are Bo and Bob, six months old and only 1,000 pounds each. They are recent additions -- he bought them at this year's Fryeburg Fair after selling another young pair.

Early learning steps for the team included simply getting used to Mick, adapting to wearing a halter, and learning voice commands. There's "step up" (move forward), "back" (back up), "gee" (go right) and "ha" (go left).

Gilead joins Bethel in rejecting Scenic Byway proposal

By ALISON ALOISIO

Bethel and Gilead selectmen are going on record this week that they don't want a "Maine Scenic Byway" going through their towns.

Route 113 in Gilead, and Route 2 between Bethel and Gilead were originally included in an effort by a coalition of groups to obtain Scenic Byway designation for the stretch of road between Standish and Bethel.

The byway effort was spearheaded by Toni Seger, of the Western Maine Cultural Alliance.

One requirement for byways designation was that letters of support be obtained from all the towns along the proposed byway.

And, initially at least, the selectmen in Gilead and Bethel expressed some support for such a designation.

Proponents of the plan argued the designation would increase tourist traffic and make state and federal funds available to improve the road.

But not everyone was in favor of the byways effort. Skeptics said designation and government funding, could come with strings attached.

Others worried the increased traffic would bring its own problems.

Over time the opposition to the proposal mounted -- or at

Developers want G'wood to be responsible for new subdivision's fire tank

By MICHAEL DANIEL

If a subdivision has an underground water tank for fire protection, is that tank an asset to the town

-- as is, say, a fire truck; or is it an asset to the subdivision itself -- as is, say, a road in the subdivision?

The developers of Stoney Fields Subdivision in Greenwood are trying to convince town officials that a 10,000-gallon fire protection tank planned for the subdivision would be an asset to the town.

And, accordingly, the town should be responsible for any maintenance and liability costs once the tank comes on line.

But selectmen aren't buying.

Threaten not to allow it to be used for fires outside the subdivision unless town agrees to take over maintenance and liability.

Stoney Fields includes six lots on approximately 10 acres of land off Howe Hill Road. The project was approved by the town Planning Board in November 2004.

One condition of approval -- on the recommendation of then Fire Chief Ray Seames -- was that any houses con-

New federal rules lead Albany to move voting up to Grange Hall

By MICHAEL DANIELS

For the first time since 1989, when voters in Albany Township stopped casting their ballots in Bethel, they will not be climbing the steep steps of their old Town Hall building to do their civic duty on Election Day.

In order to meet the requirements of the federal Help America Vote Act of 2002 (HAVA), this year's voting in Albany has been shifted from the Town Hall to the Grange Hall.

The Grange Hall, located approximately two miles south of the Town Hall on the Hunts Corner Road, has two voting necessities the former polling place lacks: a handicapped accessible ramp and a telephone line.

The Grange Hall also has a more reliable supply of electricity.

All three of those elements are required under the Accessible Voting Solutions program adopted by the state of Maine for meeting the federal HAVA requirements.

While the handicapped ramp provides better physical access to the polling place, the AVS program also allows voters to cast their ballots using a telephone and fax combination, rather than the usual printed ballot.

AVS will be in place Election Day at all Maine polling places. According to the Maine Secretary of State's Office, AVS will "enable individuals with disabilities to vote with privacy and independence a first ever opportunity for

Ted Davis back for a year as Telstar principal

By ALISON ALOISIO

With the departure last week of Telstar principal Shawn Lambert, SAD44's favorite pinch hitter has stepped back up to the plate.

Ted Davis, who retired as the school's principal in 2000, was approved by the School Board Monday to take over the position for the rest of the school year.

Davis, had he worked the full year, would have been paid a salary of $78,000. His salary will be prorated based on that amount for the remainder of the year.

GOT HIS MOJO GOIN'—Motocross competitors from Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts took part in a Maine Motocross Series race Oct. 15 at Spruce Mountain Motorsports in Woodstock. Spruce Mountain owner Bruce Korhonen said there were about 200 racers, ranging in age from 4 to the 50s. Here, youth division rider Craig Spencer flies over a rise on the track. Korhonen said about 20 local enthusiasts regularly use his course, which is located off the Cushman Road.

REMEMBERING DAVID FLEET

To the Editor:

It was indeed surprising, sad news to read in The Citizen that David Fleet had died. David was one of a kind and he in many ways characterized the Sunday River friends of my generation.

The group I knew best and that David belonged to rode the old 1930's tin can orange-colored school bus back and forth from home to Bethel Grammar School and return during the 1940s. They were Bryce Yates, George and Julie Reynolds, Norm and Betty Ferguson, Dana and Charlie Bean, Raymond and Kenneth Nowlin, Jane Bean and Dave.

In my mind they were the "last generation" of the old Sunday River kids who were growing up before Sunday River Ski Area changed life in the valley.

David would have fitted smoothly into any story or novel about the Maine woods. We knew each other from family backgrounds and after not seeing each other for over 20 years could pick up a conversation that had lapsed that long.

At the end of the 1970s to early '80s David with his sons, Jeff, Marshal and Alan, logged our woodlots where Birch Wood is now. Kathy and I left the whole operation up to David's judgment with absolutely full confidence. His winter's work paid all of our property taxes and provided us a winter's supply of firewood. At the end of different stages of his winter's logging he would hand us a slip with his stumpage account and a check for our share.

A number of times others asked me who was doing our logging and when I told them, their response would be, "Well, Dave is about as honest as they come."

We will miss you, Dave.

VETS' HOME TREE OF CARING

To the Editor:

The Western Maine Veterans' Advisory Committee is once again offering a chance to honor friends and loved ones by lighting a bulb on the "Tree of Caring" at our Veterans' Home in South Paris at Christmastime.

Bulbs in memory of a deceased loved one, who need not be a veteran, or to honor a special person who is still with us are $5 each.

The funds received from this program will be used exclusively for special activities and needs of the residents at the Home.

To purchase a bulb or for more information, please contact Dick Young at the telephone number or address listed below.

Make checks payable to the Western Maine Veterans' Advisory Committee. The tree lighting will be held at the Maine Veterans' Home at 477 High Street, South Paris, on Friday, Dec. 8, at 7 p.m.

Music and refreshments will be served in the multi-purpose room following the tree lighting.

The prior seasons of our "Tree of Caring" have been a great success and have added to the enjoyment of the residents as well as covering some personal needs for a number of them.

Thanks to all who so generously made our tree a highlight of the past four seasons, and may you all have a healthy, happy, and joyous holiday.

CPS FIFTH-GRADE FUNDRAISER

To the Editor:

Oct. 27 from 6 to 8:30 p.m. the Fifth-Grade Fundraising Committee at Crescent Park School will put on a Fall Festival.

This year we have added a few more wonderful additions.

We will have a photo area, five new games, and a haunted house.

As with before, we will have food and refreshments for sale in the cafeteria. We also have again the costume contest and the pumpkin carving contest.

Judging for costumes will be at 7 p.m. with judging for the pumpkins at 7:30 p.m. Prizes will be awarded. All proceeds will benefit the Fifth-Grade field trip.

Come and support your school and get out for a night of fun. See you there.

Kelly Blaszczak

THANK YOU FOR YOUR PRAYERS

To the Editor:

I would like to thank folks in the Bethel area who have been praying for my son, U.S. Marine LCPL Brian Zinchuk, during his deployment in Iraq.

Brian is due home this week on a 20-day leave of absence, and we are very grateful for his safe return to us.

Nearly a dozen families of soldiers in his battalion were not as fortunate.

Again, thank you for your kind prayers.

THE PIE WE ALMOST ATE

To the Editor:

I was on my way to help my friend Keven on the morning of Friday, the 13th, to do some work on his house in South Paris. I had made an apple pie, a nice homemade one, for the occasion of his wife's birthday, with a bottom up regular flour crust. Before I set off, I needed to stop at the Greenwood post office because I had a "goody box" to get into the mail to my friend serving in Iraq. With my dogs in the back seat of my extended cab truck, I set the pie on the hood of the truck and went into the post office.

I mailed the package, came out of the post office with a skip in my step at 9 a.m. in the morning on a bright autumn day. I was thinking about getting a cup of coffee and was off on my way to see my friend. I stopped for coffee several miles later. Then, getting back into the truck, I remembered the pie.

I never even saw it slip blissfully off the hood of the truck. Good thing it was the metal pie dish and not one of my good glass pie plates.

Despite my forgotten pie, I helped my friend do some insulation and we all had a good laugh about the pie we almost ate.

Much later, the sun almost down, I went back by the post office and collected what was left of my apple pie. It lay face up to the world, where it had fallen earlier in the morning. As I have the finest neighbors, no one had even taken a piece out of it.

PASS TABOR

To the Editor:

The Governor's office recently announced that the next Legislature will face a two-year budget shortfall of $750,000,000. Shortfall you say? What is a shortfall? Shortfall means there is not enough money to spend on everything the big Augusta spenders wanted or needed.

For example, suppose you want to purchase 200 gallons of fuel oil to heat your home this winter, but you only have enough money to buy 150 gallons. You guessed it. We have a shortfall. Now you and I solve this shortfall by only buying 150 gallons and putting on extra sweaters as we turn down the temperature. Government solves the problem by raising taxes. You and I cannot tax anyone, but government can and will so that they will eliminate the shortfall.

For over 30 years the Democrats have been in power in Augusta and have spent, and continue to spend, at rates that far exceed inflation and population growth. They cannot and will not cut programs. Why? Their constituencies benefit from state spending and their votes keep them in office.

Is there waste in the government bureaucracy? You bet. Are all government programs necessary? No. Can we improve services at less cost? Absolutely.

But, it will not come from the Democrats. It is time to use the voting booth in November to pass TABOR and elect fiscal conservatives and that means Republicans.

Think about it. It is you and your children's future.

Al Barth

TABOR DOES NOT CUT SPENDING

To the Editor:

Many people reading the pros and cons of TABOR (Taxpayers Bill of Rights) are left wondering who is giving the correct information. It seems confusing, but in reality it is not.

We are told if TABOR passes there won't be enough money for schools, or for police, or for roads, or for the fire department. Sounds scary doesn't it?

But to me that doesn't sound much different than a normal Town Meeting to set the annual budget. The selectmen say they need more money for the above items and we vote to approve their amounts or reduce them. If some departments have to do without, it is because we said so. If we approve more than they ask and our taxes go up, it is because we said so.

TABOR does not cut spending! TABOR limits the amount the budget can increase without voter approval. In other words if next year's budget is the same as last, or increases the amount of inflation, TABOR won't affect it at all. The reason the state is saying there will be cuts is because of the confusing way they do their accounting. For instance, if the budget is $10 million and they want to increase it to $15 million TABOR will only allow it to go up to $13 million. They then say their budget has been cut by two million when in fact it has been increased by three. They also use this tactic when they try to convince us that they are saving money. Now remember, if there are important services that "must" be funded over the allowed amount the case needs to be made to the people, and if a majority agrees then the additional increase is allowed.

I was a selectman in Sweden for three years and I tried to always tell people the truth and give them all the facts. Sometimes they didn't agree with me, but they weren't confused about the issues or where I stood and many have since said they liked that.

It would be so nice if our state government would operate that way. If they ask for 5 percent increase and only get a 3 percent increase it should be called an increase not a cut or decrease. This also applies to the governor. This past week I saw an ad on television saying our governor took office with a $1.2 billion deficit and he balanced the budget. The ad doesn't say when, for how long, or if it is balanced today. Also this past week a report came out from the state accounting people saying we have a $570 million shortfall in our budget. This information hasn't been disputed by the governor anywhere that I have seen.

Most of our income tax money came in to the state in April. People with extensions paid in August. Here it is only October and the state has spent more than half a billion dollars more than it has and the governor is leading us to believe that we have a balanced budget. I don't think we have a balanced budget. I think we have a problem, and if the man in the governor's seat doesn't see a problem then he is part of the problem. There are three other choices for governor this year and we need to pick one of them in order to get a veto pen at work on some of the spending.

Please go out and vote on Nov. 7 and send a message. Vote yes on TABOR and show the state that you don't believe your money is being spent wisely and you want more control of it. Vote for other than Baldacci to show that he has let you down by not doing his part to control spending and needs to be replaced.

Carroll Murphy
Sweden

In our back yard:

Stay warm this winter while cutting pollution

Late fall frosts usually find many Maine homes with a pile of wood in the yard, split and neatly stacked, ready for the howling winter ahead. The tradition of heating with wood goes back to our cave-dwelling ancestors. Unlike our ice-age predecessors, we have the luxury of burning wood inside enclosed appliances and avoiding breathing too much unhealthy smoke. We also have the responsibility to consider how our heating choices affect the environment around us.

Unlike coal, oil, natural gas and propane, sustainably harvested wood is considered a renewable resource; as long as we replenish what we cut and maintain forest health, we will always have wood to burn. Wood also adds no net carbon dioxide (CO2), a greenhouse gas implicated in global climate change, to the atmosphere; wood spent its life as a tree absorbing CO2, so the CO2 emitted when it burns is still part of the carbon cycle.

Despite these environmental benefits, however, burning wood can cause real pollution problems both indoors and out. Wood smoke contains high levels of particle pollution (soot), mercury, dioxin and other toxic air pollutants. Luckily, there are steps we can all take to make sure our stoves burn more efficiently, reducing pollution and cost.

The first thing to do, no matter what kind of fuel heats your home, is to weatherize with insulation, weather stripping, caulk and storm windows. Weatherization keeps your heat inside instead of helping to warm up the neighborhood. A tight house also helps reduce the amount of fuel you burn.

Selecting the right woodstove is the next step. Newer woodstoves meet strict federal (EPA) emissions standards through the use of a catalytic combustor or recirculation of gases and particulates. Look for a sticker on the stove that indicates it is EPA-certified and for information on heat output and efficiency. A more efficient stove will pollute less and save money on fuel in the long run.

Picking a woodstove sized correctly for the area it will heat will increase efficiency and reduce emissions. A woodstove that is too large will have to be damped down, creating more pollution from inefficient combustion and increasing dangerous creosote build-up.

Proper operation and maintenance will keep your stove running clean and safe. For a clean, efficient burn, build a small, hot fire with hardwood that has been air-dried for at least six months. Small fires burn volatile gases more quickly, reducing safety hazards and air quality problems. The optimum temperature range for gases leaving the stove should range from about 300 to 400 degrees Fahrenheit. A simple, inexpensive stack thermometer that sticks to the stovepipe with a magnet will help to monitor the exit gas temperature.

Keeping the stove clear of excess ash prevents clogging of the stove's intake vents that supply needed oxygen. Once or twice per year clean the stovepipe and inspect the stove and chimney for warping, gaps in the baffle and creosote build-up. Replace catalytic combustors every two to three years.

Go ahead and get in touch with your prehistoric roots, snuggle up in that warm, cozy heat from the woodstove, and rest assured that with the right stove, seasoned wood and good operation and maintenance practices your wood heat is not giving someone else a bad air day.

The Albany Grange Hall also offers another welcome amenity lacking at the Town Hall: indoor plumbing.

In the past Albany ballot clerks who felt the need had access only to an outhouse.

But at the Grange Hall, "we have the key to the church next door," said Joan Kimball registrar of voters.

Registration, voting already underway

Election Day is Tuesday, Nov. 7, but Maine residents who wish to register and/or vote (absentee) earlier do not need to wait until then. Residents of organized towns can register and vote now at their town offices (check first for open hours). Residents of Albany can do so by contacting Joan Kimball (824-3191). Residents of Mason and Milton townships register and vote, respectively, at the Bethel and Woodstock town offices.

Next week's Citizen will list all local polling places and hours for the Nov. 7 election.

Concord Pond Road to be plowed?

WOODSTOCK—Selectmen are researching the possibility of plowing and sanding the Concord Pond Road in the winter. The board last week received a petition on the issue with 32 names of campowners on Concord Pond. The three-mile road extends from the Peru town line to the Milton Township line. Town Manager Vern Maxfield will check into the costs. A public hearing would take place before the board makes a final decision.

Collections for military, Nicaragua

BETHEL—Goods are being collected at Ellie's Workout Express to benefit both American servicemen overseas and the poor of Nicaragua. The Nicaraguan effort is taking place under the direction of Paige Pittman, the U.S. Field Director for the Peace and Hope Trust. The organization oversees a variety of projects, including road construction, education and providing relief supplies. Items that can be indicated include school supplies, books, sewing supplies, clothing and shoes and health care items. Military donations may include such items as phone cards, individually wrapped snacks, warm socks, deodorant, and tums. Several boxes have already been sent, and military organizers report the soldiers were very pleased to receive them. For more information on the collections e-mail Pittman at paige@peaceandhope.org or call 824-3539.

Hikers find their way to safety

RILEY TOWNSHIP—Two young men who got lost while hiking on Old Speck Mountain walked for 18 hours straight before meeting up Friday with wardens who'd been searching for them. "They were cold, wet, tired and hungry, but otherwise in good shape," said Mark Latti, spokesman for the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife. Michael Hawkins, 21, and Ryan Weeks, 21, both of Augusta, called on a cell phone Thursday night to report that they'd become lost. Wardens searching the area said it was possible the hikers had crossed into New Hampshire. But they were found about 5 miles away in the Ketchum area of Riley Township, which borders the town of Newry, Latti said. They had jackets to help stave off the cold as they walked through the night using a flashlight. They found a camp at 5 a.m. before moving on, and wardens located them at about 1:45 p.m. Friday, he said. Although they had jackets and a flashlight, they were not prepared for an extended hiking trek and didn't have appropriate rain gear or enough food. "They weren't prepared for this type of an adventure," he said. Among the rescuers searching for the hikers were nine members of Mahosuc Mountain Rescue. Bob Baribeau of MMR said his team was out all night looking for the two along the Loop Trail. Other local volunteers who helped were the Newry Fire Department, Bethel Rescue and Tri-Town Rescue.

Halloween safety tips

AUGUSTA—The Maine Department of Public Safety has issued tips for keeping safe on Halloween. The State Fire Marshal's Office cautioned against using Halloween costumes, wigs and props which have not been labeled flame retardant or flame resistant. Last year a Lisbon man was critically burned when his homemade costume caught fire. Kenneth Daigle Jr. spent months in recuperation after cotton balls glued onto clothing caught fire from a cigarette he brushed up against at a party. Fire Marshal John Dean said when selecting or making a costume, choose material that will not easily ignite if it comes in contact with a flame or heat. He also cautioned against using dried flowers, cornstalks or crepe paper near any flame. Dean also urged caution with candles, either as decorations or illuminations inside pumpkins. Motorists are advised that Halloween night will be in darkness earlier because daylight saving time ends on Sunday October 29. Maine Highway Safety Director Lauren Stewart said most youngsters will be trick or treating in darkness and motorists need to be on the lookout for them. Sunset on Halloween night this year is 4:33 p.m. EST. Stewart said, "Trick or treaters should plan ahead, use flashlights and reflective tape on costumes and watch for motorists. We also advise parents to make sure youngsters are using their seat belts and/or child safety seats between stops."

JOHN BALDACCI

To the Editor:

Some things Governor Baldacci has done: Strengthened the educational system; put workers back in paper mills; developed an innovative healthcare plan; kept Maine warm during energy crisis; supported stem cell and other medical research; addressed global warming; supported fish industry; worked to save Brunswick Naval Air Station and Portsmouth; protected the environment and preserved natural resources; faced a $1.2 billion deficit, $275 million in yearly borrowing (some to pay back of debt created by the borrowing of funds from teachers' retirement under Jock McKernan); and faced the statewide closing of paper companies.

Baldacci genuinely cares about people and works hard to relieve suffering. By contrast, Chandler Woodcock said in a recent debate that "Maine's Won't discriminate Bill" catered to "special interests." Tell that to all who have lost jobs or not been promoted because of their lifestyle. Tell that to the two women in Poland whose house was recently destroyed when they were victims of a hate crime.

Woodcock supports TABOR, which places control of state and town finances in the hands of a few over the wishes of many. It would force restrictions on the citizens of a town that voted against it. That sounds like special interests to me. There is a better way. The state Chamber of Commerce has a plan, as do others that will address the tax burden in a way that is fair and looks for what "can" be done. TABOR is very negative and tells us what we "cannot" do. I like the positive approach.

What TABOR hurt the most in Colorado was education. You cannot talk jobs without talking education. The economy of the 21st century demands a special kind of Education. I thank the governor for his strong support of education. Baldacci has earned my vote.

LEN GREANEY

To the Editor:

I'm writing on behalf of Len Greaney's candidacy for the Maine Senate. I've come to know him well over the past six months and I can vouch for his possession of the very qualities we need so badly in Augusta this November.

He is a hard worker with a relentless approach to the truth and a burning desire to help the people of Maine. He has worked tirelessly throughout his campaign and has a wonderful grasp of the issues that have held Maine captive for such a long time.

He knows that we are overtaxed — he understands that healthcare costs too much — he knows that the deficit the state faces is absurd and he knows how to take care of these and all of the other problems that face all of Maine's voters who want to continue to live in Maine and keep their families around them.

He is bright, attentive to detail and a fine man and I intend to vote for him in full confidence in all of his abilities — I hope you'll do the same.

BRUCE BRYANT, JOHN PATRICK

To the Editor:

The readers of The Citizen are most fortunate that Sen. Bruce Bryant and Rep. John Patrick are at work for them in Augusta, and I know that those of you who have visited the State House are well aware of the important role that they hold. For those who have not been able to witness this in person, I would like to share my perspective.

My work with Adult Education takes me to the State House frequently and I am able to see Bruce and John in action. Their colleagues mention how effective each is as a committee chair; Bruce as chair of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife, and John as chair of Legal and Veterans Affairs. I often sit in on their committee hearings and am always proud of their professionalism and especially their consideration for all of the citizens who testify.

I can attest that Sen. Bryant monitors the all-important budget process and picks up each line that impacts his towns; he is tremendously effective in building coalitions to get support for the bills he sponsors on behalf of his district. The governor commented recently that when Bruce, often accompanied by Rep. Patrick and Rep. Mark Bryant, enters his office, they are usually successful in achieving results, because the issue is of great importance, and because Bruce and his team are persuasive in making the case. The resources brought to the Technology and Fractionation Centers, to local school districts, and to the Canton Flood project, are but a few examples.

Rep. Patrick is regarded highly as a passionate advocate for the people of his district, willing to buck leadership if necessary. He is diligent in following up on constituent matters and clearly relies on his tremendous knowledge of his district in selecting issues on which to take a stand.

The Legal and Veterans Committee and the Maine Citizens Trade Policy Task Force, also chaired by Patrick, address complex issues and have required long hours and much negotiation and research. John has done a great job.

The motto of Sen. Bryant and Rep. Patrick, as well as candidates Tim Carter, seeking election in District 91 and Roy Gedat in District 95, is Putting People First. They support issues that benefit average working Mainers and seniors, and particularly issues that will build a future in our region. They are worthy of your support as you vote this fall.

TIM CARTER

To the Editor:

Tim Carter would bring great experience as representative to House District 91. He is a thoughtful listener who cares about our area and the people who live here. As a former dairy farmer of many years, he respects property rights, knows what it's like to be a small business owner, while also understanding the importance of care for natural resources. He understands how government can help people, and when it can get in the way. I plan to vote for Tim and think he is a wise choice for voters on Election Day.

NANCY BESSEY

To the Editor:

As many of you know, I ran for the Maine House of Representatives for the seat that is being vacated by Arian Jodrey. I lost that race and while it was a disappointment I lost to a very capable opponent.

Nancy Bessey is a terrific candidate for the office. She will bring fresh ideas to the House and she will work tirelessly on behalf of the people of Maine and particularly House District 91.

She is bright, energetic and has a marvelous background in business. This background will help all the people of Maine by revitalizing the economic climate in this state.

She recognizes that we are taxed too much, regulated too much, our healthcare costs are absurdly high and that something has to be done in order to increase the potential of the state of Maine.

I urge all of you who voted for me, for which I am eternally grateful, to cast a vote for Nancy Bessey.

I also urge those of you who are independent or those of you who are registered Democrats to say no to the same old tax-and-spend routine and cast a vote for a change that will benefit the state of Maine and all of her people.

TIM CARTER

To the Editor:

In November I will be voting for Tim Carter for state representative for this district. Tim was born and raised in Maine and has lived here most of his life. He knows what it is like to have to harvest wood off the family woodlot to pay taxes.

The hard work of farming and logging has made him sensitive to the problems facing Mainers today.

New citizens moving to Maine seem to have plenty of money and want to have expensive services, money for taxes isn't as much of a concern to them.

Citizens on fixed incomes and blue-collar workers aren't as lucky, they have to scrape to pay their taxes at current levels.

I believe Tim Carter will work to hold taxes in line and is a good choice to represent us in Augusta.

SAWIN MILLETT

To the Editor:

How can anyone who knows the facts not vote to return Sawin Millett to the Maine Legislature?

With his experience, knowledge, and background, we are very fortunate to have him representing us.

Sawin and new governor Woodcock will make the big changes we all need in Augusta.

To the Editor:

I have known Tim Carter since grade school. I have never known him to be anything but an honest, hardworking, responsible citizen.

Tim will represent District 91 in this same responsible manner.

TIM CARTER

To the Editor:

Good government for our state can happen only when we vote to elect candidates who are dedicated to serving all the people of their district and state, not those committed to special interest groups.

Tim Carter is a candidate who will represent all the people in his district.

I met Tim a few years ago while we both worked at Mt. Abram Ski Resort and have remained friends with him ever since. He is honest, dedicated, dependable, and I believe he will contribute all his energy to bringing good government to our state. He deserves your vote.

CHRISTOPHER WAINWRIGHT

To the Editor:

As your sheriff for the last 16 years and a law enforcement officer for the last 30 years, I feel compelled to address the citizens of Oxford County concerning the upcoming Nov. 7 election for sheriff.

My focus since the beginning of my tenure as sheriff has been to work hard for all of the citizens of Oxford County, not just a specific group. As the state of Maine constitution says, "the Sheriff of any given County is the Chief Law Enforcement Officer of that County."

This position comes with a very large responsibility to provide quality service by the patrol deputies, the jail, court security and civil process. It is important to always remember that the citizens of Oxford County pay for these services and deserve the best service possible.

The needs of the citizens of Oxford County have always been a priority for me.

The time has come for me to step down from this honorable position as the sheriff of Oxford County and look for the best individual to replace me.

Without any reservation, I support Chief Deputy Christopher Wainwright 110 percent. Chris is an individual who has worked for me since I took office in 1991. It became readily apparent to me from the beginning that Chief Deputy Wainwright had many goals and one was to someday become sheriff of Oxford County. Chris' dedication and professionalism will serve the citizens of Oxford County well.

Chris' leadership skills are apparent as he ascended through the ranks from patrol deputy to chief deputy in charge of the Oxford County Sheriff's Office. His respect for his fellow Oxford County citizens exemplifies his qualifications for this position.

Not only has Chris earned great respect from me, your sheriff, but from fellow deputies and employees of the Sheriff's Office as well.

On Nov. 7, we will have an opportunity to go to the polls to vote and I urge everyone to go out and do so. This date is extremely important to the citizens of Oxford County, as this is your opportunity to vote for the chief law enforcement official, the Office of Sheriff.

It has been an honor and a privilege to serve you, the citizens of Oxford County, as your sheriff.

Lloyd "Skip" Herrick
Oxford County Sheriff

WAYNE GALLANT

To the Editor:

I have known Wayne Gallant both personally and professionally for years. He is a true leader that has his eye on the future. He knows how to balance the needs of the communities he is working for while being fair to his employees. He leads by example with honesty and integrity. He is able to keep his personal and professional life unsullied while still being a go-getter and fighting for what he believes in.

Wayne Gallant cares deeply about righting injustices and believes that we should all feel safe in our communities. He works tirelessly to ensure that those who break the laws are held accountable.

Wayne Gallant knows how to bring people together and share ideas to form better working relationships. He volunteers his time to sit on numerous boards so that he can have a voice in the decisions that help our communities.

If we want our county law enforcement to move forward instead of continue in the same fashion we need to make a change. Let's vote for a man with a proven track record of leadership and proactive law enforcement ideas. Let's move forward and vote Wayne Gallant for Oxford County Sheriff.

CHRISTOPHER WAINWRIGHT

To the Editor:

We would like to take this opportunity to encourage the residents of Oxford County to vote for Christopher Wainwright for Sheriff on Nov. 7.

As a 16-year veteran of the Oxford County Sheriff's Department, Christopher possesses both the knowledge and experience necessary to carry out the many duties and responsibilities of the office. As important, he has earned the respect and support of the dedicated men and women in the Oxford County Sheriff's Department who wear the uniform with pride.

A vote to Christopher Wainwright is a vote for continuation of years of dedicated service and protection to the citizens of Oxford County.

WAYNE GALLANT

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter in support for Wayne Gallant for Oxford County Sheriff. Wayne Gallant has proven his leadership over and over. From the time he spent as officer of the Rumford Police Department leading that department into a successful D.A.R.E. Moving to the leadership role of lieutenant in the same department and when called upon leading the department in the absence of the chief numerous times.

Wayne Gallant co-founded the Tri County property crimes task force, where he led multiple agencies to work together.

Then Wayne Gallant chose to embark on a new challenge and began leading the Wilton Police Department as Chief of Police. He has made many changes in this department and continued to lead by example.

Wayne Gallant has proven his ability to lead and bring people together for a common goal. He leads by example with integrity, honesty and professionalism. Please do what is best for Oxford County and vote Wayne Gallant for our next Oxford County Sheriff.

CHRISTOPHER WAINWRIGHT

To the Editor:

We are writing to you in support of Christopher Wainwright for Oxford County Sheriff. The accomplishments and credentials Christopher has earned throughout his distinguished career with the Sheriff's Department demonstrate his expertise in civic affairs as well as his dedication to the serve and protection of our fellow citizens. As chief deputy of the Sheriff's Department, he possesses a clear understanding of the organization's mission as well as a vision for the department's future.

If you want a sheriff that is dedicated, just, and loyal to the taxpayers of Oxford County then we urge you to vote Christopher Wainwright for Sheriff on Nov. 7. He is a gentleman, family man, hard worker, and a born leader; the choice is clear.

BRUCE BRYANT

To the Editor:

Bruce Bryant is a seasoned Legislator and has earned being re-elected to the Maine Senate. I have learned from experience that Bruce possesses strong interpersonal skills. He listens attentively to his constituents and works diligently to fulfill their recommendations. Bruce is also a gifted leader who understands the importance of democratic problem solving and decision-making.

Personally I have Bruce to thank for passage of the DNR BILL. Without his energetic support and experienced advice, my quest to revise and update the Living Will would not have been achieved. We in the area of District 14 (Central and Northern Oxford County, plus Jay) are privileged to have a person of his stature represent us in the state Senate. I will proudly cast my vote on Nov. 7 for the re-election of Bruce Bryant least grew more vocal — in Bethel and eventually byways proponents dropped Route 2 from the plan.

Gilead

And on Oct. 11, Gilead's three selectmen voted unanimously not to support designation.

According to Administrative Assistant Beverly Corriveau, the selectmen planned to sign a letter to that effect at a meeting scheduled for last night (Wednesday).

Corriveau said the board members originally indicated they would support the plan, but they changed their minds based on the concerns of townspeople, on further research they had done, and on input at the Oct. 11 meeting attended by Bethel resident Bob Chadbourne and Selectman Dennis Doyon.

In Bethel, selectmen last week formally, and unanimously, went on record against inclusion of Route 2 in the proposal. (The move, of course, was somewhat moot, since Bethel had already been dropped from the proposal.)

Bethel selectmen, like those in Gilead, had initially supported the plan, but then backed off when questions, including concerns about regulations, arose.

At that time, selectmen said they remained open to the possibility of backing the plan, if supporters could make their case. But no further meetings with organizers followed.

At last week's board meeting, Doyon reviewed byways-related documents and said they raised more questions than they answered.

One piece of that information later proved to be unrelated: a document outlining a byways application process tactually pertained to an out-of-date National Scenic Byways application. Seger said that document was not information she had provided.

Town Manager Scott Cole said Wednesday the confusion was indicative of the overall process. "The initial presentation was poor," he said. "It appears the towns were all being fed the same snow job."

Just before the board voted last week, selectman Don Bennett suggested there are other ways to attract more tourists besides establishing a scenic byway.

"If it comes down to businesses in town wanting a few more people to visit our beautiful area," Bennett said, "they can certainly find a way to work up their own website or whatever there is to help themselves out."

Fire tank

structed in the subdivision be equipped with automatic sprinkler systems.

But Greenwood has a new fire chief, and the subdivision developers recently went to the Planning Board and requested to have the sprinkler requirement changed to water tank.

The new fire chief, Jim Owen, went along with the request, but with conditions.

He stipulated that: "Any maintenance of the tank in the future will be the responsibility of the residents of the subdivision in whatever agreements they may have for road maintenance, etc. The town of Greenwood assumes no responsibility for any future maintenance of this tank unless for damage caused by the use of this tank by the fire department. The fire department reserves the right to inspect the installation of this tank to conform with standards and the ability of the department to use the tank."

"The department also reserves the right to utilize the tank for training and to conduct inspections of the tank periodically. The fire department will replace any water used for training or firefighting use."

A little snag

But at a selectmen's meeting last week developer Howard Chapman complained that the conditions represented "a little snag" for the developers.

Once the tank is installed, Chapman argued, it "becomes an asset to the town."

He noted particularly the town's right to inspect the tank, and to use it for training.

He also said that Owens, in a conversation with Chapman's partner in the project, Roger Wheeler, said the Fire Department would expect to be able to use the tank for fighting fire outside the subdivision.

Chapman told the selectmen: "It's almost like if we were to give you a fire truck, and what [Owen] is saying is: 'If you give us a fire truck we expect you to accept the liability for that truck and service it in perpetuity.'"

"It seems to us that if we put in that tank and it becomes an asset to the town, the town should accept the responsibility for maintaining it," Chapman said.

But Loretta Mikols, chairman of the Board of Selectmen didn't see things that way.

"I don't see that as an asset of the town. I see it as an asset of the subdivision," Mikols said.

"Right," said Selectman Wayne Hakala. "It's like a road."

The selectmen and Chapman also discussed at length the question of liability for the tank.

Chapman suggested that "if the town would not accept that liability, the developers might restrict the use of the water to only fighting fires in the subdivision itself."

At one point Chapman claimed that subdivisions in Bethel with fire tanks already restrict the use of their water to the individual subdivision itself.

"They restrict use to the subdivision itself because they don't want the exposure," Chapman claimed.

(Bethel Fire Chief Jim Young told The Citizen Tuesday that he knew of no such restrictions.)

Last week's conversation between the board and Chapman was ultimately inconclusive.

Town Manager Kim Sparks said later she hoped to meet with Roger Wheeler to discuss the matter further.

She said Wheeler had mentioned the possibility of abandoning the fire tank alternative and reverting to the requirement for individual sprinkler systems.

That's an option Hakala would probably support.

"Water tanks are nice," he said last week, "but sprinklers are 1,000 percent better — guaranteed."

Team

Once they learn the basics individually, Mick starts working them as a team, in their yoke.

He said he can see individual personalities in the animals. And they react to his mood.

"They can tell if I'm mad. They get hyper sometimes," he said. "If they do something wrong, it's not them. It's you."

The new team has now progressed to practicing for the competitive events.

There's the drag, in which they simply drag a weight along the ground. The team must pull 60 percent of their weight.

There's the cart-pulling, in which the steers maneuver a cart through an obstacle course.

The cart is Mick's favorite event. "I like it because there's more to do and think about. More strategy," he said.

Showmanship involves judging the handler on how he shows his animals.

And Open competition is based solely on judging the steers' body structure, both individually and as a pair.

How well Bo and Bob will do in the open competition depends in part on how Mick feeds them. An ideal pair is the same height and build.

"You want them to be even," he said.

His pair share the same father, but have different mothers. They tend to grow on their own track, but it can be influenced by what they get fed.

One feed combination will make an animal taller, while another makes him heftier, Mick said. So feeding them, "is like a game," he said.

In addition to ongoing training and proper nutrition, there are also grooming considerations. The steers get vegetable oil in their food to promote a glossy coat.

Mick also considers the effect of sunlight on the steers' coat — it can bleach it. So during warmer seasons, he keeps the animals inside during the day, letting them out at night.

But in the cold of winter, with the sun low in the sky, he reverses the routine.

Getting ready for a show day is the most challenging part of being a teamster, Mick said.

Right before the competition, the steers may get a vinegar bath to prevent dandruff (Head and Shoulders for oxen, Mick calls it.) And a team must be meticulously brushed to look their best.

While Mick trains Bo and Bob, he continues to work with his other pair, Dick and Dan, who are 3 years old and weigh 2,500 pounds each. He has had them since they were less than a year old.

His work with that team paid off at this year's Fryeburg Fair. They won for being the best match in their weight division.

And at the Ossipee Fair, Mick won the Best 4-H Teamster Award.

It's not easy making the sacrifices required to be a top teen teamster. "I tried doing afterschool activities, but it just didn't work," said Mick.

But the satisfaction of working with his bovine friends is worth it, he said, and he's looking forward to the future.

For 2007, Mick is aiming to have his steers ready to compete as a team of four.

And for the long term, he hopes to become a judge in the events in which he now competes.

"I see it as a lifelong hobby," he said.

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published by special arrangement with the Advertising Department

I have my stash of Trick or Treat candy all set for when the little hobgoblins come knocking. If all goes well and I don't eat it before then I'll be ready for Halloween.

One thing the little ghosts and witches won't get at my house is a bag of popcorn or popcorn balls. I know that is a Trick or Treat staple and I don't have anything against popcorn, but when I was a little kid I really hated all the bags of popcorn and popcorn balls I received on my trek throughout the neighborhood. Lots of candy was my Halloween goal.

I will admit to having an extremely expensive corn popper sitting right on my kitchen counter. Some people call it a microwave oven, but since I use it primarily for popping corn, I just call it an extremely expensive corn popper.

And it certainly is a lot more convenient than the one I had years ago that was used on the stove with a turning handle. And that model was more convenient than the wire mesh basket that was shook over an open flame. That's the type of popper I grew up with.

I'm willing to bet that most kids and young adults don't even know that popcorn can be popped in anything but a microwave.

Considering that popcorn dates back at least 5,000 years, the microwave method is very, very new.

I think kids of today would get quite a kick out of popping corn the Native American way. It is believed that the ears of corn were placed on sizzling hot stones over a campfire. Everyone gathered around the fire and as the kernels popped and shot off in various directions the game was to catch as many pieces as possible.

That sounds like it might have been fun, but I do wonder about burnt hands from this little game of catch-the-kernels.

Lots of candy was my Halloween goal.

Even though popcorn is the earliest known snack food it had other uses as well. Christopher Columbus documented observing West Indian natives, especially the young ladies, wearing popcorn corsages to ceremonial gatherings. It was also worn in the hair and as necklaces.

And to think, when my daughter went to the prom, we searched high and low to find just the right jewelry to go with her gown. Heck, we should have just thrown a bag of Pop Secret into the microwave and saved ourselves a lot of time and money.

Oddly enough, it was popcorn that inspired the concept of the microwave oven in the first place. That's right, popcorn! Also a candy bar.

Dr. Percy Spencer, a scientist employed by Raytheon was testing a vacuum tube called a magnetron way back in 1946. Dr. Spencer happened to have a candy bar in his pocket and discovered that his closeness to the magnetron had melted it.

You or I would have just been a bit upset by the melted mess in our pockets, but that's not how a scientist responds to such situations. Dr. Spencer was quite intrigued by the mishap and decided an experiment was in order.

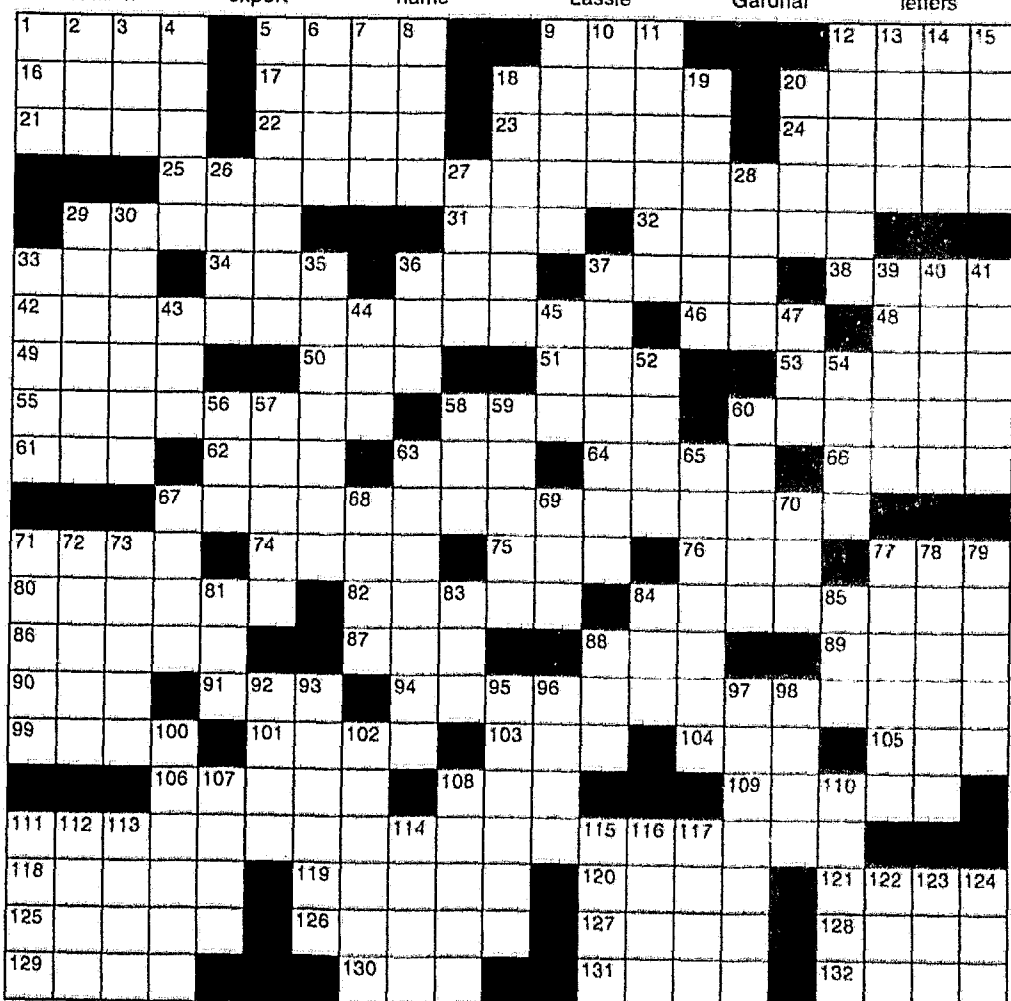

That's what scientists do, they experiment. So, the curious Dr. Spencer placed some popcorn kernels near the magnetron and watched with an inventive sparkle and probably dollar signs in his eyes as the popcorn sputtered, crackled and popped all over the lab. The rest, as the saying goes, is history.

I do find all of that very fascinating and it actually makes me feel a little better about using my microwave as an extremely expensive corn popper.

However, I still do not plan to put up little bags of popcorn or make popcorn balls for Halloween. The little spooks and monsters that come knocking on my door will be treated to high sugar laden keep-em-up all night candy.

And the way I see it, considering that I just finished off the last package of peanut butter cups, I'd better POP right out to the store and replenish my supply.

Bethel

by Virginia Keniston

Mabel and Alden Kennett have returned from a visit with her sister, Marion Lister, in Franklin, N.C. They attended three quilt shows and had a nice trip through the Chesapeake Bay tunnel.

Brenda Tibbetts Wodka is with her sister, Wanda Worthly, in Roxbury. Her address is PO 173, Roxbury, ME 04275.

Alan and Kathy Thrall are on vacation at Palm Springs, Calif., for 10 days.

Last Saturday, a large group made up of members of the Non-timber Forest Products Association, a division of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, met in Bethel for a series of activities, which included a seminar at Telstar Regional High School, luncheon, and "A walk in the Woods." Sally Butler of the USDA was the coordinator. The latter was held on the land of Ernest Angevine on North Road. This portion was provided by Judy Coolidge on education of school children: Ernest Angevine's hobby of walking sticks; Ira Gibson, maple products, apples and cider; Dick Angevine and Dick Cross, birch figurines and unusual planks from dead pines; Bob and Ginny Keniston, wood turnings; Steven Stone, chainsaw animal carvings; Francis Palmer, weather sticks and Xmas Wreaths.

Middle Intervale News

By Pat Carter
Barbara Stevens is sharing this news with us. Her nephew, Dan Stevens, along with his father, Robert, brother Keith and uncles, Dale and Alvin went on a moose hunt Oct. 10. Dan was a lucky hunter and got a 700-pound bull moose. Barbara visited Ruth Stevens Chase in Saco for three days. They had a good time shopping and visiting. They took Sarah Stevens to lunch. She is happy and content living with Marilyn and Charlie. Barbara learned that Ruth attended her Senior Prom with Tim Carter and that would be how many years ago?
I understand that my rendition of how Howling Hole Road got its name made some of the natives on this road scratch their heads. They had never heard that story.

Their version goes like this: There was a farm up on Swan Hill in the vicinity of what is now Howling Hole Road. It seems that there was a very severe winter with lots of snow and some wolves came down from Canada. Because of the scarcity of food they stayed around the buildings and would climb onto the roof and howl. I will admit that it makes a more colorful story but I still think the one I heard is just as plausible. It's fun to hear a good story, isn't it?

First it was the "wind chill factor." It used to be that we simply said it was 10 degrees below zero and most of us were smart enough to figure out that we'd be cold and should dress accordingly. Then we discovered that snow flurries were really "snow showers." I've got a new one for you. I heard on the radio from Chet Herick's mouth the very newest description for snow that hits your windshield and melts almost immediately. It's called "white rain." Do you think we'll make the big time and become part of nightly news on the weather channel? You never can tell. It's about time for a new term to hit the airways.

Saturday night's wind storm caused havoc with the trees, the power lines and my husband's snow machine trailer. It got tossed around and the front now has a good dent in it. That was quite a breeze! We were without power for about ten hours.

Mayville News

By Don Bennett
The Bethel Historical Society website has new reading material about the Bethel fall fairs held in Mayville. The Bethel Agricultural Fairs and Riverside Park article is found at www.bethelhistorical.org/Bethel_Agricultural_Fair_and_Riverside_Park. You can also open the Bethel Historical Society website and choose Newsletters. This very comprehensive, interesting, fast-moving article was written by former Sunday River resident Yvonne Nowlin in 1984. Read among other items of interest how Frank Harrington's barn on the North Road reached its current location.

Walking along Mayville Road often turns up local news dividends. Sunday I happened to see a roadside message in white lettering in front of the Clanton's house that said it was safe to dig for the next 1,026 feet. The dig safe markings ended about thirty feet beyond building number one of the Mayville Junction. Checking with the Bethel Water District, I got this e-mail reply from Lucien Roberge: "There is going to be a main extension from Clanton's to Pugliar's. The main extension will be approximately 1,026 feet at an estimated cost of $45,461.12. The services and fire protection has an estimated cost of $13,462.12. This brings the project total to an estimated $58,923.24. The water main will be a 12 inch.

The Citizen had barely hit the streets last week when I had a response from Ted St. Pierre at the Outlook Studio about the so-call unnamed island in his vicinity. Ted passed on that the island's name is Bartlett's Island due to early ownership by one Reuben Bartlett born in 1768 in Cambridge/Newton, Mass. He moved to the vicinity of St. Pierre's from the Middle Intervale where his first home in the Bethel area was located.

According to my maps and Google, Bethel has only two named islands in the Androscoggin River — Bond's Island and Hastings Island. There are at least five other islands large enough to have an official identity including Bartlett's Island. Four of Gilead's islands are named with only one unnamed. Bethel's original lot map shows these islands all right but no lot numbers were assigned to them.

Here is an item to give you pause to reflect on what a busy household might mean. The Reuben Bartlett mentioned above had 14 sisters and "they married into Bethel families and into well-known homes in neighboring towns" — according to Eva Bean's book "East Bethel Road."

Kathy left for Texas on Saturday. She will be gone for a week to do a Mary Poppins job looking after grandchildren.

She flew from Portland. It is the first time either one of us has flown to Dallas from Portland because it was the first time we could find suitable flights at a reasonable price. Kathy's flight is via Continental.

The project of the week has been producing a proposed Mayville snowmobile trail plan that would connect to Maine Snowmobile Route 13 where Route 13 follows a road behind the airport to a Cross's gravel pit. In the long, long run, this proposal would cover such areas as Birch Wood, River View Resort, Twitchell Brook Estates plus businesses located along Mayville Road. With development continuing in the Mayville area, the proposed route plan would most likely stretch, twist and change over the next few years.

One element of the plan, if agreed upon, would be the most visible evidence of a snowmobile network in the vicinity. This element would be a posted snowmobile crossing marked with Maine DOT signs in the vicinity of the Irving Station. Those involved with producing this proposal are awaiting comments from local landowners. Progress on a snowmobile trail network in Mayville will be updated via this webpage — www.thebetheljournals.info/Mayville_Snowmobiles.

For the record: Last week our coldest early morning temperature was 30 degrees on Tuesday, Oct. 17. Two substantial rainfalls occurred: Wednesday, Oct. 18, we received one and five-eighth inch and overnight it rained two and five-eighth inches that we woke up to on Saturday, Oct. 21. And, our first snow of the fall was Monday morning, Oct. 23. At 10:30 a.m. the temperature was 35 degrees; the ground was covered with more than an inch of wet snow.

If you like using honey as a sweetener and have not tried Gibbee's Raw Honey you should drive up the North Road to 36 Gibson Road. We have tried two batches of Frank's honey — one was nearly clear in color and quite sweet while the other was much darker, thicker and not quite so sweet. This time of year a spoonful of honey in a hot cup of tea suits my taste for an afternoon drink. One of my food sources has told me that local honey is also a good way to fight allergies. Gibbee's store also has excellent cider, and his temporary roadside sign near the North Road's entrance tells you how to get there.

Heating oil prices at Brooks Bros. have dropped again. Cash purchase of heating oil is down to $2.149 per gallon and kerosene is down to $2.499 for cash buys. Irving's low gas price still is holding at $2.299; Saturday, gas near the Maine Mall was $2.199 and at the Big Apple at Trapp Corner gas was $2.179.

Upton

by Eleanor LeComte

Remember all that "hog-wash" about our beautiful fall weather?

The Celestial Weatherman changed his mind and threw us a curve. Snow, rain, wind and chilling cold has been our fate the last few days. The lake is not "frozen over" yet, it's too windy and rough. The water level is higher than it has been all year, including the spring runoff.

In spite of the miserable weather, those who have building projects are hammering away. Some nice looking buildings are emerging.

The first measurable snow arrived on "Blue Monday." It was that wet, sticky, watery goo that causes accidents. Diane and Ginny Williamson were heading toward Newry but turned back toward Upton when road conditions went from bad to worse.

The elections are right around the corner. The candidates are informing us on public issues. Tim Carter and Nancy Bessey have both made themselves known. Both have attributes worthy of the cause. I maintain the right to be "wishy washy" and keep my vote a secret.

The World Series between the Cardinals and the Tigers is in progress. We refuse to be interested since the Red Sox blew it.

Visitors to Upton have been few. It's the off season. Hunting season is ahead, then we will have a population swelling. The poor deer are already staking out their hideouts.

We did have some visitors last week. Nancy and Jim Silverberg from Florida spent two weeks at the family camp on Birch Point.

June Gagnon spent a day with her father, Al Gagnon, over the weekend.

Simone Lavallee is recovering well from her recent fall.

What's left of the gardens is still producing beets, broccoli and in preparation of spring the parsnips are mulched up for the winter.

Jen Casey's pumpkin crop lies on the ground waiting for Halloween.

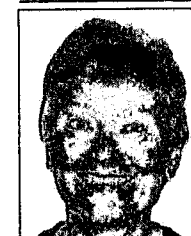

Now that the bears have gone to bed for the winter the suet feeders are being hung again. I seem to think the populace resents Bruin's presence when their balls of suet are confiscated every night. A greasy suet ball is not welcome indoors, but most folks brought them inside at night all summer.

Paul Casey, again, is the last boat owner to leave his craft in the water. He is quite confident that he will not be iced in this year, but that is a moot situation.

The Canada Jays, chickadees and crows dominate the bird scene. The "Bird of the Week" is the downy woodpecker that committed "Hari Kari" on my neighbors' window. He was either in love with his own reflection or just couldn't face an Upton winter.

Happy thirty-ninth birthday to Lucille Largesse.

flakes were falling in earnest, some of them as big as quarters and half-dollars. When we reached the Hoehstead, the snow was starting to stick, and by the time I sat down to write this, the temperature had dropped to 32 degrees, and we had at least an inch of measurable white stuff. The trees and limbs were bending under their beautiful blanket, and my thoughts turned to visions of cross-country skiing.

Owing to a computer glitch, last week's column did not get printed. Instead, it should be appearing next to this week's in the Oct. 26 edition. So you're not seeing double.

Last Thursday Mike and I saw some "confusing fall warblers," which we have tentatively identified as black-throated greens. The warblers in their fall plumage all tend to look pretty much alike, but careful study can sometimes pay off. On Monday morning Mike announced the first junco visiting the feeder. Before that we had seen only woodpeckers, chickadees, nuthatches, and titmice. Let me know what you're seeing in your yard.

Friday night's storm was a wild and woolly one. The rainfall amounted to 2.9 inches in our gauge, and the wind blew most of the remaining leaves off the trees. Around 12:05 a.m. early Saturday, our power went out and didn't return until 7:20 a.m. I no sooner had the old camp percolator going on the gas burner than the lights came on again.

Walking on the forest road is a whole different experience with the leaves gone; one can see into the woods again, and it seems like another place altogether. It will certainly ease things for the deer hunters.

The West Bethel Union Church held the first of its fall/winter fellowship suppers Saturday evening. Church members and friends get together about once a month during the colder months to share potluck, and enjoy fellowship. This social gathering encourages everyone to get out during the months when they might be tempted to hibernate.

The Mahosuc Land Trust met on Sunday evening for its annual meeting. After the business meeting comprising annual reports and election of officers, the attendees were entertained by guest David Brown, who presented a program entitled "A Closer Look: Wildlife Tracks and Sign in Western Maine." A fascinating slide show and video were accompanied by his knowledgeable commentary on mammals and their tracks.

Ten of Bethel's Red Hat Ladies journeyed to Boston on the Downeaster train on Wednesday, Oct. 18. We were collected at North Station by our very own stretch limo and transported to the home of my friend, Monique Monroe, in Jamaica Plain, where we were treated to a lovely luncheon by Monique, an excellent cook. It was Ginny Gamble's "xxth" birthday, and she was completely surprised by her daughter and granddaughter, who marched in with a beautiful birthday cake, while we all sang "Happy Birthday."

Afterward, our driver took us to the Museum of Science, where several of us opted to see the remarkable "Body Worlds 2" exhibit. This was a presentation of actual human cadavers and organs, preserved by a special process called "plastination." Contrary to what one might think, there was nothing gory about it at all, and in many ways it seemed more like a sculpture exhibition than a scientific one. The exhibit will be there until January.

Finally, we were limo-ed back to North Station, where we engaged in snacking and people-watching while we waited to board the Downeaster for the return trip to Portland. It was a long and tiring day, but everyone agreed that it was well worth it.

Jane Hosterman told me she recently received a jubilant phone call from Marie Witter of the Bog Road, announcing, "I can walk again!" Marie had a bad fall some time back and had to have pins and things inserted in her broken femur. After staying off her legs for a few months, she is now fully recovered.

Jane also mentioned that her daughter celebrated her 59th birthday last week. Give her our best wishes, Jane!

Bud Kulik's brother has been traveling cross-country and was expected to arrive in West Bethel on Tuesday this week for a visit. The Kulik's will start back to Phoenix around Nov. 1 to spend the winter there. They're looking forward eagerly to having a real house in Bethel for their summer stays.

Don't forget to don your blaze orange when going outdoors during deer season, which starts next week. Please contact me with your news: 836-3011; dhoeh@megalink.net.

Note: Last week's West Bethel column was inadvertently omitted. It follows:

One morning last week Jake and I heard geese overhead. I looked and looked, never locating them, but it was surely a fall sound. We have had several killing frosts over the last week, with the front lawn looking pure white with rime most mornings. And then last Wednesday night, one of the warmer ones, we had 2.8 inches of rain collect in the gauge overnight! That's a heap of rain.

The winterberries are bright red, dressing up the swamps. We picked some branches on Sunday morning to brighten up the house.

The winterberry bush is a deciduous form of holly, and an examination of the berries confirms this. The wild cranberries found in wet places are also prime right now, and Mike has already gathered more than enough for our Thanksgiving sauce.

The visitors to the bird feeders are mostly chickadees, titmice, and nuthatches. At the suet feeders we're seeing both downy and hairy woodpeckers. The other day there were two hairys and one downy all there at the same time, an unusual occurrence. They tend to want the suet all to themselves.

The Pleasant Valley Grange once again hosted the Bethel Senior Citizens Wednesday, Oct. 11, for their annual New England boiled dinner. Some 35 to 40 seniors were served a delicious meal by Grange members. A couple of Grangers have confided to me that they are relieved to have finished with fairs for another year, and now that the boiled dinner has been successfully concluded, a quiet couple of months sets in for the Grange.

Friday, Oct. 13, was Grandparents' Day at Crescent Park School. Mike and I visited grandson Andrew Siegel in Shirley Merrill's grade three classroom. We met our neighbors, Carol and Bob Everett, who were there for Carol's granddaughter Olivia. The children read their acrostic poems about Autumn, and then worked with their visitors on completing acrostics about Grandma and Grandpa (or Nana and Papa, Grammy and Grampy, etc.).

Ms. Merrill also led a discussion about how present-day schools compare with those we grandparents attended. It all amounted to a pleasant and interesting morning, and not at all unlucky, date notwithstanding.

Ten of the Bethel Red Hat ladies are going to Boston on the Downeaster on Wednesday, Oct. 18, and then visiting the Museum of Science. I'll tell you all about it next week.

Two feet of snow in Buffalo! I'll bet I know of some who would like to have had that up at Sunday River!

Back in the day, there was often substantial snow in October and November, and no bare ground until April or May. The local economy could benefit by an old-fashioned winter.

SUCCESSFUL HUNT—Jonathan Sabins (right), 17, of Albany got a moose recently. He didn't have to go far to bag it — the animal was shot in Albany. At left is Jason Mathias, also of Albany.

Gilead

by
Lin Chapman

This past Sunday was nice and sunny even though it was a little cool. Hugh and I decided to take a ride up Route 113 and look for a good subject to take pictures of, such as a deer, moose or maybe an owl like we saw last year. We rode up to the Wild River Campground, and all we saw, besides downed trees on the side of the road, were a couple of chipmunks. It was a nice ride anyway.

Steve and Lise McLain had a visitor this past week. Their son, Joey McLain of Bozeman, Mont., was home for a few days. When I spoke to him on the phone, he sounded quite happy with his life in Montana. There are plenty of places to go hiking, which he loves to do.

The wind was quite strong last Friday night. We were fortunate not to lose the power. It went out in a few places in town but for only a few minutes at my house. When we got up on Saturday morning, we saw that the canopy we have over our lawn swing was ripped up and tossed aside by the wind. The swing was tipped over and moved a few feet across the lawn.

Gilead Historical Society
Work has begun on the fall newsletter for the GHS. All members will be receiving their copy in the mail in late November.

The website for the Bethel Historical Society has some very interesting information on it. Check it out and see what is new. The following is an excerpt from the Bethel Journals that are compiled by Donald Bennett. "September 1891 — Gilead: William Chapman has harvested about fifteen acres of grain with a self-binding reaper. He will run the ensilage cutter this year by steam power and will begin cutting his 18 acres of corn this week. Northwest Bethel:

The fields of corn at the Homestead have mammoth stalks."

The Gorham Historical Society will be celebrating the 100th anniversary of the Grand Trunk Station. The station is the site of their Historical Society. They have set a date of Aug. 11, 2007 for the celebration and have printed a calendar that is for sale by contacting them. Mary Jane Ames (representing the Gorham Historical Society) attended the Friends and Family Day that we had in June and her e-mail is maryjaneames@verison.net.

The Bethel Stamp Club will meet on Oct. 31 at the Robinson House at 2 p.m.

Roger Zimmerman returned on Oct. 22 from New Zealand after visiting his daughter, Heather.

Andrew Keith, son of Jim and Celeste Keith, got his buck on Youth Day, Oct. 21. Jim said he was tickled pink.

Barbara and Rudi Honkala had visitors from Australia. They picked up Brian and Gwen Wall in Freeport on Oct. 21 and took them to Portland on the 24th to catch a flight back home. Brian and Rudi were in the Antarctic together in the '60s.

Mary Bean appreciates all the kind things done for her and the calls. She will answer all your calls, but she tires easily now. Please leave a message and she will get back to you as soon as she can.

Alder River Grange has one more supper on Nov. 11, which is the Turkey Supper.

Debbie Eldredge of Unity visited Millie Jackson on Oct. 17 and 18 and attended the funeral service for Arlene Farwell.

If you have news, give me a ring at 834-3350. God Bless the Troops.

Hanover

Thursday, Oct. 26 — That is today and this is Town Meeting Day in Hanovor with the annual Town Meeting taking place at 6 p.m. in the Hanover Town House at 12 Howard Pond Road. The Select Person position held by Brenda Lee Gross is up for election as is the Superintendent School Committee position held by Ruth Brown. The tax collector, treasurer and town clerk positions will also be elected. Among issues to be voted on is an article to authorize the Select Board and the Planning Board to set fees for building and land use permits. Also to be announced at tonight's meeting is the annual Volunteer of the Year Award.

We survived the big wind and rainstorm last week. The wind blew down limbs and uprooted and broke off trees just about everywhere. Luckily electrical power was not lost probably due to the efforts of the crews that have been working in the area trimming along the power lines. Over two inches of rain and snow fell in the area bringing up water levels in the river and in streams. Howard Pond was filled to over capacity with the "dip" on South Shore Road discharging excess water. The Howard Pond Dam was opened earlier than the proposed date to help reduce the water level in the pond.

Donations continue to come in for the Gardner Roberts Memorial Library Moving Fund. Last week Judy Ray gave a $200 donation in memory of her grandmother, Pauline Lovejoy, who at one time lived in Hanover. Another $100 was received from the Rumford Rotary Club. Maura Rodway and Bruce Powell had previously accepted that donation at a meeting in the Rumford Library.

Judy Ray left Hanover last Wednesday to return to Austin, Texas. Ann Wheeler has also returned to Austin.

Keeping Jim Ray company at the Triple J is Pat Atkins, who lives in Texas.

Building construction continues at Howard Pond with a new house at the Adams' property, a new garage at the Pelletiers and a new garage and addition at the Robinsons. Seasonal properties are being closed for the winter.

With the General Election coming on Nov. 7, the Hanover Town Office will be accepting non-perishable food donations in support of the Boy Scouts as they work to help the needy. When you go to vote please bring a food item to make this Boy Scout project a success.

What a chilly weekend we had. Saturday morning, at 6:30, my sister-in-law,

Sue, and I were kind of nervous, the weather wasn't looking very nice for the Haunted Walk. The clouds were dark, the wind was blowing a gale and it was raining. After a few hours things started changing so that was a relief. The weather certainly didn't deter people from coming out shortly after 5:30 p.m. They started

A TASTE OF WINTER—Bethel area residents woke Monday to large snowflakes that eventually covered the ground to a depth of about an inch. The snow made for slick traveling and walking, and traffic moved slowly on Main Street in Bethel. Lulu, the English bulldog, who lives with Jett and Janet Black, was well prepared for the chilly temperatures. (Photos: A. Aloisio) lining up for the 6 p.m. start. I'm pretty sure it was worth their wait.

Saturday was youth hunting day in the state. Six deer were tagged at Mills Market. During the moose hunt two weeks ago, thirty-four moose were tagged. I read in the Lewiston Sun editorial a few days ago a letter from a person who lives in Roxbury Notch concerning the moose hunt. They would like to see the gravel pit at the bottom of the hill posted "no hunting" (during the moose hunting season). Good idea! I know that it was posted last year and I don't know why they didn't do it again.

Happy Birthday this week to Deagan Conrad on Saturday, the 28th.

I think that one of the many reasons that people move to Andover is its neighborliness (is there such a word?) and people's respect for each other and their property. A family on Farmers Hill has been plagued by somebody shooting out their windows with a BB gun. To say the least, they are quite disappointed to have this happening, and most of all they thought that in Andover, Maine they would not have to be dealing with such a thing.

Sympathy is extended to the family of William Chandler, who passed away on Oct. 11 at his home in Connecticut. As many of us know, Bill and his family have a home in Andover, the infamous Chandler Mansion. He is survived by his wife of 51 years, Harriet; and their children, Michael and his wife Beth of North Carolina, Tammis and her husband Gaston of California, Nicholas and his wife Toni of Massachusetts, and Peter and his fiancé Susan of New Mexico; and eight grandchildren. A memorial celebration is planned. In lieu of flowers the family requests that donations be made to either the Andover Educational Fund, PO Box 32, Andover or the National Parkinsons Foundation at www.parkinson.org.

Newry

by Sylvia Harrington

The large, white snowflakes fell Monday, just in time to wish Gilberte

Seeley a happy entrance to her 99th year, which began on Tuesday, the 24th. Many, many wonderful wishes for a great year to a very dear friend.

Time to set the clocks back one hour on Saturday evening, the 28th; or if you prefer, stay up till 2 a.m. and do it at the correct hour.

Bear River Trading Post is still featuring thermally hot chili. They will soon have broccoli soup on the menu along with the everyday offerings of hot coffee of different flavors; snack foods too. The largest bear tagged is still the 375-pound one by a man from New Jersey. They also have hats and gloves on sale to keep you comfortable during the cold months.

When the power goes out, and the telephone lines are still working there is a way to be able to use a phone. At Dyer's Electronics and Radio Shack in Mexico, you can purchase a regular phone; I think it is called a land-line phone, which will plug directly into the phone jack. It will work unless the phone lines have a break in their circuits. It was my city sister, Nancy, who told me about these telephones.

Dick and Betsy Clark recently visited their brothers and sisters in New Hampshire. Betsy's brother and wife in Concord and Dick's sister and brother in Pittsfield. They had a wonderful weekend visiting both families.

I was about ready to go out and shovel on Monday when I heard someone at the door. It was Tim Carter, who trudged up the drive with almost two inches of snow on it — easier to walk up than to go down. He was here to talk about the upcoming election and his involvement. I told him he didn't have to do this as he was getting my vote. He did mention my getting an absentee voting ballot just in case Election Day was a day like today. I just may do that.

Winter has struck in some places. So far we have been lucky.

Friend Dave Bennett reported three inches of snow already over there in Newry. We just had rain and glad of it. Our snow blowers are still under cover and we are happy to leave them there as long as possible.

This week hunters are out in full force if not yet hunting deer. That will start this week for all local hunters. I've already got some of my hunter orange out. I need to find Tasha's. She looks like a very slow-moving deer except when she's after a squirrel or skunk. She's after the latter lately. So far she hasn't been sprayed, but she still reeks anyway. Her new nickname is "Stinky."

This Saturday, Oct 28, there is a wagon ride and bake sale at Waterford Fairgrounds from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Cost is $3 for adults and $2 for children. It benefits the Waterford Fair. FMI: 583-4160.

Also in Waterford on Saturday is the Oxford County Senior Citizens Fall Frolic Day, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. It is at Waterford Grange 479 on Valley Road. Featured speakers will be Chris Van Dyck and Leah Ustach. There will be free coffee, doughnuts and cider. There is also a free chowder and soup lunch with bingo, music and door prizes. It is sponsored by the Oxford County Sheriff's Office Triad program and Waterford Grange 479. FMI: Linda Hooker 743-9554 ext 3 or (800) 733-1421 ext. 3.

Oct 27 and 28 the Bethel Outing Club will hold their annual Ski Sale for Alpine and Cross Country. It is at the Gould Academy Field House, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Friday, and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday. FMI: www.bethelouting.org.

Dave and I spent an enjoyable evening last week with the Waterford/Stoneham Lions Club. It was an enjoyable evening with a worthwhile group.

David Fleet of Newry passed on last week. I have known David a long time. Condolences go out to his children and partner.

There are no words to express sympathy about the loss of a loved one.

Halloween is upon us. Tuesday those trick or treaters will be at our doors.

Having three grandchildren living next door, we expect to have a visit from at least a few. Most of the little ones in the neighborhood know us now, so we are not foreign territory.

I am not sure my parents would have been as open to us going out in a climate like today's.

We have gotten out some of our winter clothes. — flannel pants and such.

The mornings are cold and the afternoons still not too warm. The season is changing.

Sooner than we know, our snow boots will be out. The pumpkins are all picked and on the porch. Have a great week and stay warm and out of the woods on Saturday unless hunting.

Albany

by Sheila Dyke

Greetings and hello from Albany Township. So it starts — snow! Now I know that all you skiers and kids just itching for snowmen were probably jumping up and down for joy (Danny was amazed as he watched the snow drift down from our kitchen window), but, it's not even Halloween yet! Snow!

There is a Yard Sale at the Town Hall this Saturday starting at 9 a.m.

It's probably one of the very few still going on in the area now and it's indoors, so, no standing in the cold.

Tuesday is Halloween, so be careful while out on the roads as there will be kids and families out and about trick or treating.

Tuesday, Nov. 7, is Election Day.

Best wishes for a happy and healthy week. God Bless and Keep!

At a Stanley Home Products meeting recently Alice Hoyt received her pin for 49 years of service.

On Monday, Oct. 16, Phyllis Jordan, Harriett Estes, Bessie House and Alice Hoyt met at the Ocean Pearl for lunch. It was good to get together.

Several members of the W.H.S. alumni met to plan the Senior Citizens dinner for Nov. 2, at the home of Alice Hoyt on Tuesday.

Services at the Baptist Church are Sunday School at 9:15 a.m.; morning worship at 10:30 a.m.; choir practice at 5 p.m.; evening service at 6 p.m. Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. is prayer meeting; Thursday at 9:30 a.m. is Ladies Bible Study.

The Woodstock Elementary School will hold their annual Craft Fair on Saturday, Oct. 28, at the school to be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tables for rent are $10 each. Contact Missy at 364-3035 or Stacy at 674-3118.

The Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens will meet on Thursday, Nov. 2, at the Grange Hall. The W.H.S. alumni will put on the dinner of turkey, etc. The program is John Davis. Bring in your tickets and money on the cord of wood, as they would like to draw a winner that day.

Whitman Memorial Library will have Sayward Lamb as guest speaker on Thursday, Nov. 9, at 10 a.m. He will be talking on his book, "Deer Tails and Other Tales." All are invited and there is no charge. On Thursday, Oct. 26 (today), Nancy Willard will be giving a class on Tai Chi, a gentle exercise to start at 4:30 p.m. All are welcome to attend.

Historical Society At the Historical Society meeting held Saturday, Oct. 14, President Elaine Roberts appointed the following committees for the year: Finance, Annella Burnham, Joyce Howe and Olive Risko; Building Committee, Paul and Vicki Billings and Don Hoyt; Research, Olive Risko, Elaine Roberts and Joyce Howe; Program, Paul Billings and Joyce Howe; Food, Joyce Howe and Vicki Billings. Annella Burnham spoke on the Petrified Forest.

Curator Larry Billings gave an original print. The Museum has an art collection ranging from a large print of Ra-to wrap the house in plastic and the flowerbeds need covering with pine needles. The screens are already out and replaced with glass.

The 100th anniversary celebration at the West Paris Universalist Church was a great success. The sanctuary was filled to overflowing. Former ministers, the Reverends Herbert Adams and Vance Frank greeted all and told of their time serving at the church. Beverly Stevens talked about the beautiful stained-glass windows, the meaning of each design and the families that gave the windows.

Marilyn Hammond gave an account of the development of Universalism in West Paris from 1840 to the present time. The choir was made up of former members of previous choirs and several members of the Norway Church.

Jeanne Whittemore was a special soloist. Jim Burke was the organist.

A gathering was held in Good Cheer Hall with delicious refreshments. A large cake with the chalice for decoration was served. Memorabilia and many photographs were on display, arranged by Joyce Lamb. There was a lot of reminiscing by all.

On Oct. 29, Rodney Abbott will be the guest speaker at the West Paris Universalist Church. The service is at 9 a.m. and all are welcome. Jim Burke is organist. A social time with coffee and refreshments follows.

The Rev. Vance and Treva Frank were guests of Joyce Lamb over the weekend. Their daughter, Bonnie, and her children, Priscilla and John, also came for the church's 100th birthday celebration. They are all from Orange, Mass.

Buffy found strangers in his bed but found me upstairs so he could sleep with me. He does have some difficulty climbing stairs so I carried him down in the morning.

From

Roxbury ATV Riders

Our last regular meeting was held Oct. 20, at the home of President Mike Worthley in Roxbury at 7 p.m. Sixteen members were in attendance. From here on out (and this is only for the winter) we will suspend meetings except in December. Regular meetings will begin again in March of '07.

Reminder: The following trails will be closed by Oct. 28 at the latest: from Route 120, Andover to Farmers Hill and Horseshoe Valley Road. This closure is per request of the landowners. The trail will reopen for snowmobiling this winter and for the ATVs in the spring of '07. All of the trails will be closed by Dec. 15, or with the first groomable snowstorm.

The Park and Ride will remain open for those wishing to ride north. You will still be able to ride to Coos Canyon, Devils Den and Andover via South Arm Road.

Some Sunday prior to Dec. 15, we will need some volunteers to remove the ATV trail signs on trails and roads. All access routes will be closed except at the pond for ice fishing. If you would like to get in one final ride prior to snow setting in give Mike a call at 545-2715 for dates.

Trail Work

Culverts and ditching have been done from the Park and Ride to the first snowmobile bridge. The new multi-purpose bridge out back of Mike and Wanda's looks great. A culvert donated by Michele Gagnon was installed on MCI land along with two. Cables and locks are needed for the gates. A gate has been delivered to Mike Perry. This will connect us to River Valley Trails. Boulders are now in place on the South Arm side of the Chandler Trail. Thank you to Victor Petersen and John Percival for taking care of this. The club donated three loads of gravel to the snowmobile club for their work on the trail on the Cochran Road. They did a great job on this.

If anyone could pick up three round bales of hay that have been donated, please call Mike or Wanda at 545-2715 if you can assist on this.

The following officers and board members were nominated and approved for the upcoming year. Officers are status quo: Mike Worthley, president and trail master; Klaus True, vice president; Wanda Worthley, secretary; Jane Ryerson, treasurer. Board members: chairman of the Board, Klaus True, Craig Ryerson, Victor Peterson, Bill Morse, Matt Burnham, Jean Chartier and John Houy.

We will continue to run two poker runs next year. One on Memorial Weekend and one on Labor Day Weekend. We are also looking to do a toy run mid-summer next year. More details as they happen.

ATV Maine calendars are for sale through the club. We have 50/50 raffle tickets from the Peru ATV Club. All the tickets from the Lions Club Gun Raffle have been sold. Thank you. Reminder: Any money you may have for ATV Maine raffles must be returned to Wanda by Nov. 15.

Did you read your recent Newsletter? You will notice a whole new format with a lot of info. We have some pretty clever members in our club. Thank you to Linda Houy for creating this new format and thank you to Wanda for creating the past newsletters.

We will be mailing out 50/50 tickets to members in January '07 to sell. Last year at the Memorial Day Poker Run we had raised over $5,200 with half going to one lucky person. Let's see if we can top that.

Thank you's to the following from whom we received a total of $810 in donations within the month of October: Ellis River Riders, Ellis Pond Variety, Rick Rhea and the Town of Roxbury. Thank you all.

Thank you to all those who keep on dropping off their bottles. It has been a big help for our equipment fund.

Fun Stuff

President Mike is playing Frankenstein at the annual Andover Haunted Walk on Saturday, Oct. 21 at 6 p.m. Proceeds will go to the fifth-grade class. Mike will also be playing Frankenstein at the Mexico Rec Center on Saturday and Sunday again at 6 p.m. Anyone that has ever met Big Mike knows he will be a perfect Frankie! Have fun Mike! JJJ

Our annual Christmas Party will be Friday, Dec. 15, at Mike and Wanda's at 6 p.m. This will be a potluck so bring a dish or a salad or dessert to share. We are asking for a donation of $5 per person instead of a gift. These funds will be donated to Toys for Tots or Christmas for Children.

Tree Stand Raffle Winner: Leonard Hutchinson of Carthage. Congratulations, Leonard! Meeting 50/50 was won by Jane Ryerson. Door prizes: ratchet tie-down set, Dorene Patenaude; camp saw, Matt Patenaude.

Be thinking of rides and other events during our winter break and we hope to see you all back next year.

There will be no meeting in November '06, January and February of '07. Our next gathering will be the Xmas party on Dec. 15.

Think Snow! Enjoy the winter and join a snowmobile club.

Till then ride safe and respect the trails and our landowners.

During the month of September 2006 Oxford County Recyclable Solid Waste Corporation (OCSRWC) processed the following:

Shipped 199.33 tons of material at an estimated sale value of $15,027. Estimated cost to trash the same 199.33 tons material — $16,943.05 (based on average tipping and hauling fee of $85 per ton). Estimated avoided cost for July — $31,970.05. Recycled 175.98 tons or 351,960 pounds of material.

Recycled 175.97 tons of paper product saving 2,991.49 trees. It takes 17 average sized trees to make one ton of paper.

Shipped 70.14 tons of corrugated cardboard with an estimated sale value of $5,961.90.

Shipped 83.91 tons of newspapers, magazines and junk mail with an estimated sale value of $6,101.

Shipped 21.92 tons of non-corrugated cardboard with an estimated sale value of $978.

Shipped 23.36 tons of tin at an estimated sale value of $2,710.

Congratulations to the following recycling teams: Tri-Town for packing seven out of ten cardboard containers weighing in at over 1,000 pounds each. Stone/Waterford for packing eight out of nine cardboard containers with weighing in at over 1,000 pounds each. Greenwood/Woodstock for packing five out of five cardboard containers weighing in at over 1,000 pounds each. West Paris for packing three out of six cardboard containers weighing in at over 1,000 pounds and Gould Academy for packing one out of one cardboard container weighing in at over 1,000 pounds.

Packing cardboard containers with over 1,000 pounds is time-consuming. Hauling a fully loaded container to the

Jazz and Cocktails

On Saturday, Oct. 28, Those Jazz Guys will be performing an evening of your favorite jazz standards at The Sudbury Inn. The Mahosuc Arts Council will present Those Jazz Guys: James McLaughlin on the baby grand piano, saxophone player Tom Zicarelli, upright bass player Don Williams, and Morris Manning on guitar, as they take you on a sentimental jazz journey.

James McLaughlin has been involved in music education as a private piano/theory instructor and clinician for many years. He has enjoyed a freelance-performing career playing nationally and internationally in venues such as "The Rainbow Room" and "Don't Tell Mamma" in New York City, and the "Foncleau" in Rome, Italy. He has shared the stage with notables such as Randy Brecker, Chris Vidala, Dick Johnson and Clarke Terry.

Tom Zicarelli attended Northwestern University and Berklee College of Music. He has also been a bandleader, composer, teacher of music and technology, and has even spent a year as a weather observer on the top of Mt. Washington. He composed the title track for a new Molly Flannery Quintet album, "Slow Dance at the Asylum," playing the saxophone on most of the album's songs.

Local musicians, McLaughlin and Zicarelli, will be joined by guest bass player Don Williams and guitar player Morris Manning. Don Williams is a full-time musician based out of Plymouth, N.H., where he also gives private instruction at the Concord Community School. Morris Manning works as a free-lance solo musician performing regionally around his Franconia, N.H., home as well as playing jazz guitar with the New Gypsy Swing Quintet.

Those Jazz Guys will be performing two sets from 7 to 10 p.m. Seating is limited. A cover charge of $6 will benefit the Mahosuc Arts Council, cocktails are extra. For more information, please call the Mahosuc Arts office at 824-3575.

As the figures show, recycling does pay. Thank you for participation.

From

Waterford Library

The Waterford Library monthly book discussion group will meet on Oct. 25 to discuss "Cry the Beloved Country" by Alan Paton. All are welcome.

First published in 1948, "Cry the Beloved Country" is a beautifully told and profoundly compassionate story of the Zulu pastor Stephen Kumalo and his son Absalom, set in the troubled and changing South Africa of the 1940s.

The title that the group has chosen for November is "The Tortilla Curtain" by T.C.

Boyle. This discussion will be held on Nov. 15. The "Tortilla Curtain" follows two couples in Southern California, one a pair of wealthy suburbanites, the other illegal immigrants from Mexico, provoking question after question concerning immigration, unemployment, discrimination, and social responsibility.

Because iCare.

As a board member, my biggest priority is accountability to the community, because iCare about great health care.

iCare is a new way of looking at things, but not a new way of doing business at Western Maine Health. iCare is simply a way for all of us to identify the values we share in order to ensure the best quality care for our patients. iCare means we all bring integrity, compassion, Accountability, Respect, and Excellence to our tasks, and always remember that we serve our community.

From Oxford County Democrats

The Oxford County Democrats are offering supporters a great Holiday Shopping opportunity this month with a Virtual Silent Auction. According to Oxford County Chairperson Cathy Newell, bids accepted via e-mail, cathy@megalink.net, 875-2116, through Nov. 3, when final bidding will take place at the final Push Supper at the Rumford Eagles Hall. Updates on bid levels will be sent by e-mail. "The items reflect the generosity, unique talents and interests of our candidates, as well as their devotion to special local eateries and businesses," Newell stated. "The bids placed are a commitment of people in the area to support our effort in the final weeks of the campaign, and the whole project will add some fun competition to this busy time."

Items are: two Lewiston Mainiacs tickets good for any game, donated by Roy Gedat (current bid $30); twin-size quilt made to order delivered by March 1, 2007, minimum bid $125, donated by Cathy Newell (current bid $125); one Private Pool-shooting lesson donated by John "The Legend" Patrick; one home welding job, donated by John Patrick; two $25 gift certificates to Kathy's Diner in Mechanic

Falls, donated by Jim Bradley; scenic or blue fishing trip with lunch for two on the Kennebec with chair of IF&W, summer of '07, value of $500, minimum bid $200, donated by Bruce Bryant; $25 gift certificate to Bartash's in Rumford, donated by Wayne Gallant; two chair massages, donated by Marlee Turner (current bid $10); ½ cord of firewood, cut and split for delivery in spring of '07, donated by Tim Carter, value $100 (current bid $35); fishing trip and picnic on Richardson Lake, summer of '07, donated by Tim Carter; flag flown over U.S. Capitol, donated by Congressman Mike Michaud; river camping and canoe trip, three days on St. Croix with Steve and Terry Hayes, all gear and food provided, summer of '07, value of $400, minimum bid $200; international dining for two: breakfast at the Lake Store and lunch at the Colonial Coffee Shop in Norway, dinner in Paris at Market Square, donated by Marge Medd (current bid $20); $50 gift certificate at the Fine Kettle of Fish in Naples, donated by Sheila Rollins, and a suite of prints by Greg Shattenberg of West Paris, member of the Gedat for House committee, value $400, minimum bid $250 (current bid $251).

For updates and a complete list of items as more are added, visit the website www.oxforddems.org.

Maine Commissioner of Conservation Patrick McGowan was the guest of honor and speaker at the donkey Tuesday supper held at the Locke Mills Legion on Tuesday, Oct. 17. McGowan announced that the Maine League of Conservation, for the first time in their history, has endorsed a candidate for governor, Governor John Baldacci. McGowan outlines the strong environmental record of the administration with special mention of conserved lands and the maintenance of access for traditional uses. Candidates offering remarks included Sen. Bruce Bryant, Rep. John Patrick, Tim Carter, Marge Medd and Roy Gedat. County Chairperson Cathy Newell spoke on behalf of Wayne Gallant who is running for sheriff, County Treasurer Mary Ann Prue, and Wade Rainey, running for commissioner. All were unable to attend due to work-related meetings.

Congressman Mike Michaud was the guest of honor at a bipartisan gathering for coffee and issues discussion at the home of Larry and Marlene Engdahl on Saturday, Oct. 21. District 91 candidate Tim Carter of Bethel and Wayne Gallant of Rumford, who is running for Sheriff of Oxford County, also attended.

Congressman Michaud highlighted his commitment to see that a Northeast Regional Commission for Economic Development is created, providing assistance that the rest of the county now receives through such groups. He fielded questions on privatizing the Internet which he opposes and discussed his commitment to bringing a new bipartisan spirit to Congress should the control switch to the Democrats. He was asked for key challenges facing the Congress and identified Iraq, Global Warming, the Budget and Trade Deficits, Social Security and Healthcare.

Tim Carter discussed the need for an energetic focus on transportation as well as dealing with the unique challenges faced by rural school districts such as SAD44 and 58, both in District 91.

Wayne Gallant addressed the role of the Sheriff's Department and his commitment to work collaboratively with municipal departments WINTER WOOD ON THE WAY—Bethel Rotary Club members and other volunteers Saturday transported several cords of wood to needy families in the area and to three paying customers. The proceeds from the paying customers totaled about $1,100, and will be used toward helping other families in need with heating bills this winter. The wood, which was split by Rotarians last April, was donated by Dave Freiday. Here, the volunteers place wood on a conveyor belt that carries it to the back of a truck for delivery. (Photo: A. to achieve efficiency and a higher level of service to the citizens in solving crimes.

There will be a Meet the Democratic Candidates Reception Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. at L'Auberge, just off the common in Bethel. This event will feature coffee, refreshments and a cash bar. Tim Carter and other Democratic candidates will attend.

Sports

High School Boys' Varsity Soccer

Traip 3, Telstar 1; Oct. 23—Telstar's Matt Zinchuk scored the only Rebel goal in a Western Class C playoff loss to Traip. Louis Thornton got the assist.

Gould-Hebron, Oct. 21—Because of strong winds, whichever team was able to play the ball on the ground and connect passes was the team who found opportunities to score. In the 13th minute, Hebron scored on a bouncing ball in the box, and then again in the 19th minute. Ian Siekman '07 scored off of a corner kick in the 22nd minute (assisted by Madison Lamar '07). Hebron dominated the play during the second half, scoring three more times.

High School Boys' J.V. Soccer

Gould-Hebron; Oct. 21—Gould scored two goals in the first half. Within five minutes, Hiroki Chiwata '09 scored the first goal with a shot in the upper corner from outside the 18-yard line. Sam Dasch '09 scored the second goal during the 20th minute. Gould continued to keep the ball down as strong winds aided its momentum in the first half. Playing into the wind in the second half, the boys maintained solid offensive and defensive pressure. Hebron tied the game early in the second half, and both teams maintained their efforts. Hebron's third goal came late in the second half, but Gould continued to play strongly.

High School Girls' Varsity Soccer

Gould-CVA; Oct. 21—The Huskies scored 26 minutes into the first half with a goal from Hilary Reis '09 (assisted by Hannah Cowan '07), who lofted the shot from outside the 18-yard line. CVA's Sophia LeBlanc scored in the second half off of a direct kick. Both teams played hard in very difficult weather conditions. Goalkeepers were Molly Spadone '07 and Brittany Rogers '07. Notable play by Brittany Riley and Hilary Reis. This was the last game of the regular season. Overall record: 2-3-2. Record in MAISAD league: 2-1-2.

High School Boys' J.V. Football

Poland 20, Telstar 7; Oct. 19—Telstar took on the Poland JV team in the first home football game. Telstar's Charles Haines dragged tacklers into the end zone for the Rebels score, while Andrew Brooks kicked the extra point. Brooks had an interception, Kevin Wight had a fumble recovery, and Gavin Broomhall had a blocked extra point. Haines led the team in rushing with 113 yards on 9 carries and Evan Hutchinson ran for 67 yards on 13 carries.

High School Boys' Cross-country

Western Class C Regionals at Cumberland, Oct. 21—Winning time: 17:45. Telstar did not score as a team. Telstar finishers: 77. John Lewis 23:04; 79. Matt Lauro 23:17; 93. Will Chapman 25:38; 94. Evan Fessenden 25:43.

Meet at Gould, Oct. 14—Gould's men's team finished a close second behind the Hyde School. In the field (37 runners), the Huskies placed as follows: Peter Cowan '10(8), Andy Long '07 (9), Jeff Lewis '10 (10), James Olcott '08(16), Aiden Bozzelli '10(20), Jon Hale '07 (21), Lucien Childs-Mitchell '08 (22), Seamus Reynolds '08 (24), Jim Gibson '08 (26), and Zach Parker '09 (34). The winning men's time was from Charlie Jones of Fox Islands (19:17).

High School Girls' Cross-country

Western Class C Regionals at Cumberland, Oct. 21—Telstar placed seventh of 11 teams. Winning time: 21:39. Telstar finishers: 4. Brianna Bailey 22:45; 32. Jen DeNormandie 25:49; 45. Bethany O'Neil 26:59; 46. Rochelle Jewell 27:01; 58. Katlyn Keane 28:34.

Meet at Gould, Oct. 14—The Gould Academy Women's Cross Country Team won their home meet on Saturday. In the women's field (23 runners), the Gould Huskies placed as follows: Hana Gilman '07 (1), Cammie Wolff '08 (2), Eliza Van Heerden '07 (3), Farley Casselman '08 (6), Eliza Derrey '08 (13), Courtney Amman '09 (17), and Audrey Isom '09 (20). The winning time was Gilman's at 23:23.

Youth Football

Third and Fourth Grade

Greenwood 8, Buckfield 0; Oct. 22—Greenwood ended their season by getting their first win in a solid defensive effort against the Bucks. Zack Wheeler, Greg Wheeler, and Kevin Goodrich prevented any running up the middle and David Pilgrim controlled the outside. Shortly before the half, Chris Chappie and Noah Rose combined on a tackle in the Bucks endzone forcing a safety. In the second half, Hunter Williamson blasted loose for a 50-yard run and the Spartans had the game in control.

Fifth and Sixth Grade

Greenwood 47, Buckfield 0; Oct. 22—The Spartans ended their season on a high note by dominating both sides of the football in a thorough routing of the Bucks. Josef Holt, Nick Mills, and Dominic Haines all scored touchdowns. Bronson Dean made some runs for conversions and Mike Delduca kicked for a conversion. Kiersten Drapeau, Dylan Helms, Nick Griswald, Clinton Lawton and many others had a chance to play new positions on defense and everyone played solid, never yielding any large gains.

HOME GAME—The Telstar High School J.V. football team played its first home game last Thursday against Poland. The Rebels fell, 20-7. Charles Haines scored Telstar's touchdown.

SAVE—Good goaltending by Telstar's Kevin Gallagher kept the Rebels in the game, but they fell eventually to Traip 3-1 in Monday's Western Class C playoff. Here, Gallagher makes one of his 12 saves as a Traip player collides with him. The game was played at Hebron Academy because Telstar's field was wet and snow-covered.

Newsletter of School Administrative District #44: Andover • Bethel • Greenwood • Newry • Woodstock

SCHOOL NEWS FROM AROUND THE DISTRICT

All three elementary schools participated in an off-campus International Walk to School event, which raised awareness of the benefits of walking and for safe routes to all of our schools.

Adreanna Bennett and Ellis Coffin, (third graders at the Woodstock School), use place value blocks to build a model to represent the number 3,472.

Shown are first-graders from the Crescent Park Classroom of Mrs. DeCarolis, Mrs. Meader, and Mrs. Salway, and Woodstock School's Mrs. Wentworth's class visiting Sunday River Alpaca Farm in West Bethel.

Lorrie Hoeh volunteered her time at the Alpaca Farm during the local first-graders visit. Here, Lorrie demonstrates how the alpaca fibers are spun into yarn.

Students in Miss Haines' fourth-grade class recently started studying biomes. Here, they are exploring the forest biome to see what kinds of trees and wildlife they might see in the forests around our homes.

Ms. Smith's kindergarten class visiting the Bethel Fire Station for Fire Safety week. Chief Jim Young gave us a talk and a tour of the station. We also got a chance to sit in the fire truck.

Another successful year of Grandparents Day at CPS. Lilo Bean and Jack Audett from Ms. Smith's kindergarten are reading their journals to their grandmothers. We had 23 grandparents in our room visiting! We had fun doing M&M graphing and sorting, candy corn estimation and stories.

Three CPS Kindergarten classes enjoyed a recent field trip to Cooper Farms Apple Orchard in West Paris.

The Telstar High School yearbook will again be created online this year.

Telstar students, community members and parents can upload digital photos for consideration at yearbook's community photo site: <https://portal.jostens.com/login.asp> The User ID is 1104404 and the Password is yearbook07. The yearbook advisor will review all photos before students have access to them. Yearbook is looking for all sorts of photos including students in sporting events, at home with friends, at work or play, etc.

Yearbooks are on sale now for $39 for a limited time. Staffers are also in the middle of their annual yearbook ad sale campaign. Business ads are available for as low as $50 for an 1/8 of a page ad size.

If you have questions, would like to buy an ad or need more information you can email yearbook at yearbook@sad44.org or call 824-2136 ext. 305

Make Victory Possible Oxford County Republicans

Norm Ferguson
County Treasurer

- Graduate of Gould Academy
- Served in the US Army during Korean War
- Graduate of Burdett College
- Served as Oxford County Commissioner, and Maine State Senator (100% attendance record)
- Norm is married to Barbara, and has 4 sons, Scott, Doug, Dan, and Rob, and 11 grandchildren

Norm looks forward to serving the citizens of Oxford County. Member, SAM and American Legion. Experience in finance and administration.

Chandler Woodcock
Governor

- Chandler is currently serving his third term in the State Senate
- Chandler was born and raised in Maine
- He served in Vietnam with the Army
- Husband and father, wife Charlotte (Charlie) 4 children and 2 grandchildren

Our challenges in this state are considerable, but so are the opportunities. We need to implement real spending reform at all levels of government, lower our tax burden, make Maine a more competitive place to do business, and lower the cost of health insurance. Together we can accomplish these goals and more.

Len Greaney
Senate District 14

- Lives in Rumford, ME with wife Mary
- Served in the USAF Strategic Air Command
- 35 years Senior Management experience in two Fortune 500 corporations
- Member of SCORE, and American Legion, Chairman of the Rumford Board of Appeals

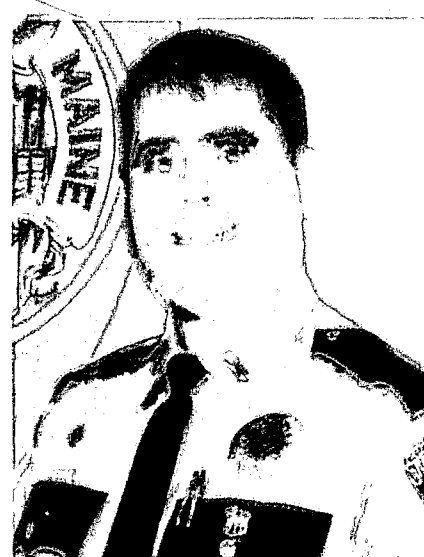

Issues include affordable health care, reducing Maine's tax burden, improving Maine's business climate, and increasing renewable energy.

Nancy Bessey
House District 91

- Retired from energy business after 20 years
- Investment partner in three Maine businesses
- Basketball coach for Rangely Middle School, and Assistant Varsity Girls basketball coach for Mtn. Valley High, Rumford

Concerns include high taxation rates, job opportunities for our children, and continued political deadlock in Augusta. Nancy feels we need to work towards a change in Augusta.

Christopher Wainright
Oxford County Sheriff

- Currently Chief Deputy of Oxford County Sheriff's Dept
- Was a deputy sheriff for 16 years, awarded medal of valor
- FBI National Academy graduate
- Native of Oxford County, 6 years US Army reserve

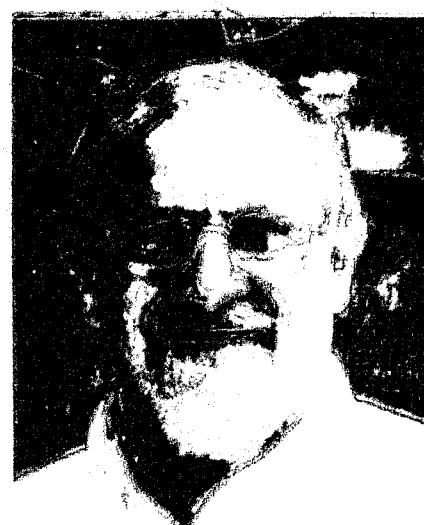

Will work to pursue federal grants for law enforcement, emphasis on rural patrols, expand Prisoner Works Program, and increase public awareness to reduce family and domestic violence.

★ Running for Re-Election ★

Sawin Millett
House District 95

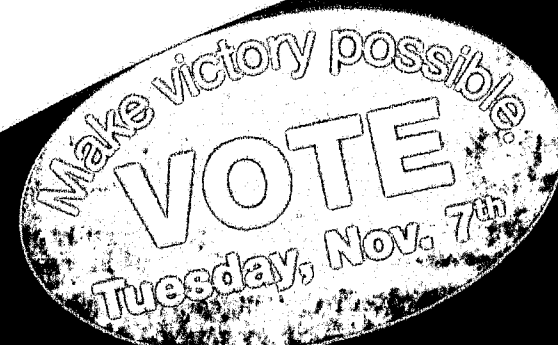

- Sawin Millett is serving his fourth term in the Maine Legislature
- Millett earned his BS degree from Bates and his Master's Degree in Education from U Maine
- Millett is also active in local and regional governmental, civic and fraternal affairs
- He resides in Waterford and is married with five children and seven grandchildren

Caldie Jackson
Commissioner District 3

- Lives in Oxford with wife Diane
- Lifelong Oxford County Resident
- Selectman, Town of Oxford, Small business owner, Vice president of Oxford Fair
- Committed to serving Oxford County
- Small business owner

Work to reduce county government spending, while continuing to provide essential services. Explore alternative cost saving measures and opportunities for county-wide group purchasing.

Listings in The Citizen's weekly Community Calendar are compiled from a wide variety of sources. While we do our utmost to ensure the reliability of the information presented here, we recognize that when dealing with such a large volume of material, some inaccuracies will occasionally creep in. And in other cases, a sponsoring organization's plans may change between the time The Citizen is printed and the event is held. Accordingly, we strongly urge our readers to call ahead to verify the details of any event they plan to attend. Doing so will greatly reduce the chance of disappointment or needless inconvenience.

THANKS TO THE GFD—Chief Jim Owens accepts a donation of $500 from Josh Burns of Mt. Abram as a thank you to the Greenwood Fire Department for all that they do for our Community and the ski area.

From

Western Mountains Senior College

Wayne DuPlessis, Bethel therapist, will present a round table discussion on depression, anxiety and SAD (seasonal affective disorder) on Saturday, Oct. 28, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at Crescent Park School, Bethel.

DuPlessis will facilitate a discussion and present information on these three mood disorders. He said these disorders affect a large portion of the general population at one time or another as people progress from adolescence to adulthood. He will discuss the various ways in which people can minimize symptoms or minimize the degree to which symptoms impact their daily lives.

DuPlessis has been in private practice for ten years and is well qualified to lead a discussion on this topic. He has a BA in psychology, an MA in counseling, an M.Ed in counseling, and a Post Master's in Marriage and Family Therapy.

He is lead facilitator and trainer for facilitators for a parenting group called PERC (Parents Effective in Resolving Conflict).

The workshop is part of the "To Your Health" series presented this fall by Western Mountains Senior College and SAD44 Adult Education in collaboration with the Bethel Family Health Center.

The remaining programs in this series include "Finding Balance Through Your Eyes, Tail and Toes" by Betsey Foster, MPH, on Nov. 4; "The Power of Laughter" by Carol Emery, MS, certified laughter leader, on Nov. 18; and "The Art of Belly Dancing" by Janet Willie, LMT, on Dec. 9. The public is invited and admission is free. Advance registration will help with planning. Call 824-8610.

BEFORE BUYING A HOME!

Where do you start when you are ready to buy a home? Before you begin looking for a home, you have to make some decisions. You need to decide what is important to you when purchasing your home. Before starting out on your home search it is a good idea to sit down and develop a list of what is important and what you would like in your new home. Your list could include schools, neighborhood, amenities, number of bedrooms, number of baths, a basement, a separate dining room, 2-story family room or foyer, one level ranch plan, master bedroom on the main level, special financing, seller willing to cover closing costs and the list goes on and on.

An experienced buyer real estate agent can help you through the process. There is no such thing as a perfect house, therefore once you have developed your list you should begin to prioritize it. You can prioritize into, "must have", "should have" and "would be nice to have". By having a clear understanding what you want in your new home, and the priority of those items, you will be in a much better position to decide whether you want to put an offer on a house you see and like. It is also a good idea to consider whether you want to purchase a new or pre-owned home.

Obituaries

RUTH M. TRUDEAU

Ruth M. (Bean) Trudeau, devoted wife and mother of nine, died Oct. 17, 2006, at the age of 82, in Raleigh, N.C.

Her husband, Francis H. Trudeau, died in 2001. She leaves three sons, Robert of Moose Pass, Alaska, Eugene of Phoenix, Ariz., and James of Raleigh, N.C.; three daughters, Barbara of Stafford, Va., Frances of Oldsmar, Fla., Constance of Palm Coast, Fla.; 13 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. She was predeceased by sons Albert and John, and daughter Catherine.

Born in Bethel, Ruth, daughter of Wesley V. Bean and Elizabeth (Hodgkins) Bean is survived by brothers, Carroll of West Paris, and Frank of Rumford, and predeceased by brothers, Wesley and Stanley; and sister, Carolyn.

Ruth was a quiet and practical woman, who, as a young military bride, embarked on what became her lifelong journey, providing a loving and nurturing environment for her ever-growing family. Throughout the years, many heartfelt expressions of gratitude have been received that stand as a testament to her unselfish and caring nature. The lyrics of the song that Ruth's husband sang to and about her on a daily basis best express the feelings each of us has about Ruth — "You are My Sunshine." The sun has set on our sunshine.

Services were held on Monday, Oct. 23, at Mullins and Thompson Funeral Home, 186 Shelton Shop Road, Stafford, Va. 22554. Mrs. Trudeau was laid to rest with her husband, on Tuesday, Oct. 24, at Quantico National Cemetery. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to Capital Hospice, Attn: Development Office, 6565 Arlington Blvd., Suite 501, Falls Church, VA 22042; phone: (703) 531-6225.

ROY W. KNIGHT

Roy W. Knight, 86, of Greenwood, died Oct. 18, 2006 at the Maine Veterans' Home in South Paris.

He was born at Franklin, Ind., on Dec. 20, 1919, the son of James S. Knight Sr. and Myrtle E. (Settles) Knight. He lived in Morgantown, Ind., until entering the military service in 1940. He was a veteran of World War II and the Korean conflict.

He moved to Maine in 1958, and lived in South Paris, Norway and South Waterford. After marrying Norma L. Martin in 1963, he lived in Greenwood for 43 years.

He was employed at A.C. Lawrence in South Paris, until leaving to attend carpentry school at NMVTI in Presque Isle, graduating in 1971. He was a member of Carpenters Local 407 of Auburn, until retiring. He was also a member of the VFW Post 11363 of Bethel.

He is survived by his wife, Norma Knight, of West Paris; a son by a previous marriage, Charles of Indianapolis, Ind.; and one brother, Robert, of South Paris.

At his request, there will be no visiting hours or funeral services.

LOUISE ELIZABETH LORD

Louise Elizabeth Stone Lord, 96, of Bethel, died at her residence on Oct. 19, 2006.

She was born in Waterford, on Nov. 29, 1909 the daughter of Edgar L. and Marian Aldrich Stone. Louise graduated from Bridgton Academy and Farmington State Teachers College. She had taught school in Waterford, Bethel, and Bryant Pond, and in Gorham, N.H.

She was a member of the Oxford County Retired Teachers Association, Maine Retired Teachers Association, Maine Association of Retirees, Bethel Historical Society, Maine Genealogical Society, Order of the Eastern Star, Purity Chapter 102, Society of Mayflower Descendants, The Fairbanks Family in America and the West Parish Congregational Church.

Louise had knit over 100 baby caps for newborns at Stephens Memorial Hospital.

She married Stanley Bickford Lord of Waterford, on Oct. 9, 1934; he died March 20, 2005.

Louise is survived by two daughters, Ellen E. Cochran of Woodbury, Minn., and Eleanor L. Jodrey and beloved son-in-law Arlan Jodrey of Bethel; three grandchildren, Becky Swan and her husband Ross of Greenwood, Michael Jodrey of Bethel and Jeff Cochran and his wife Kim of Omaha, Neb.; and great-grandchildren, Ashley Swan and Corey Swan both of Greenwood and Dan Koris and Austin Jodrey both of Bethel. She was predeceased by her husband, Stanley; and a granddaughter-in-law, Celina Jodrey on April 6, 2004.

At her request, there will be no visiting or funeral services. A celebration of her life will be held at her home, 248 West Bethel Road on Nov. 5, 2006 at 2 p.m.

Card of Thanks

I would like to thank my family, friends and neighbors for the kindness shown me while I was in the hospital and since my return home. The cards, visits, phone calls, flowers and food were greatly appreciated.

God Bless
Arlene Lowell

EVA R. LANE

Eva R. Lane, 93, of Bethel, died at the Rumford Community Home on Oct. 19, 2006.

She was born in Newry on July 11, 1913, the daughter of John and Willimina (O'Leary) Nowlin and was educated in Newry schools. She had worked for Dr. Greenleaf in Bethel and later at the New Yorker Motel as well as taking care of several elderly people in town.

She married Lyman Lane on April 27, 1932; he died Nov. 29, 1974.

Eva loved to dance, play cards, spend time with family and friends, laugh and make people laugh.

She was especially fond of animals. Eva was an avid gardener, loved to sew, knit and crochet.

She is survived by two brothers, Kenneth Nowlin and Clyde Nowlin both of Bridgton; three sisters, Lottie Knowles of Dixfield, Florence Morgan of Bethel and Barbara Casey of Mexico; three granddaughters, Terry Wilson and Shelley Palmer both of Bethel and Peggy Acebedo of Nutley, N.J.; eight great grandchildren- Briana Brown, Brett, Bryan and Brady Wilson all of Bethel, Brandon Palmer, Brian and Shelby Piawlock all of Bethel and Steven Acebedo of Nutley, N.J. and several nieces and nephews. She was predeceased by her parents; her husband of 42 years Lyman Lane; daughter and son-in-law, Eunice and Eugene Roy; three brothers, Raymond, John and Carl; and three sisters, Marjorie Nowlin, Rena Powers and Grace Bartlett.

Visiting was held at the Greenleaf Funeral Home, 37 Vernon Street, Bethel on Monday, Oct. 23. Burial was at the Riverside Cemetery Bethel.

Card of Thanks

The family of David A. Fleet wish to thank everyone for their thoughts, prayers, phone calls, cards and food in this time of sadness. We would also like to thank the staff at Dover-Foxcroft hospital, LifeFlight, Dr. Mojica, and the wonderful caring CCU nursing staff at CMMC.
